"THE GIFTS OF THE NATIONS"

India's Contribution To Mankind

MRS. TALATI'S ADDRESS

Apparently the series of lectures illustrating the Plan of Universal Evolution being given at the Manuk Lodge of the Theosophical Society at 11 Chater Road is attracting considerable attention. The regular Thursday audiences have been growing and last Thursday, found the lodge room nearly full, when the first of a symposium of two speakers on "The Gifts of the Nations" was held.

Mrs. O. M. Parkinson (President of the Lodge) announced that it was originally planned to hold a symposium of three speakers, all in one hour. This had however, to be altered.

The speaker went on to say that the Plan of Evolution for this planet included the development of great Root-Races (such as the Aryan) with their sub-races (such as the Indo-Aryans, Aryans, Iranians, Kelts and Teutons). Each sub-race had its own particular characteristic and was best fitted to give its peculiar gift to the world.

Mrs. Parkinson concluded by saying that Mrs. M. P. Talati would talk on two of the Asiatic sub-races of the Aryan Root-Race, those being the Indo-Aryans and the Iranians.

THE SAME STOCK

There was much evidence, began Mrs. Talati, showing that the Indo-Aryans and the Iranians (or Persians) were of the same stock and had for an empire a vast domain in Central Asia. Ancient books show that at one time their religion, language and culture were the same. This religion was one of multiple gods. The Devas of Spirits of Earth, Air, Water, Fire, the Sun, Moon and the Stars were all worshipped with considerable admixture of black magic.

Beyond all this they conceived of a Supreme God, Asura-Yaruna who had before him other Gods of almost equal power. Then, fortunately, pervading all this was the beneficent Mithra Cult which taught brotherliness, purity and love as well as revealing the Mysteries to those who were ready for them. The climate became considerably cooler and when a dispute arose on some religious points the Indo-Aryans moved southwards to the banks of the Indus from which they derived their name and from whence they spread throughout India.

ESTABLISHED AN EMPIRE

The Iranians then moved westward and there established a great commercial empire. Then to halt the corruption that followed, was paved the way for Iran's greatest gift to the world—the Advent of Zarathushtra. Zarathushtra gave the world a new religion. He taught that there was only one great Pervading God—Ahura-Mazda the Creator, the Father and Sustainer, the same God of all the religions. To reach Him there must be Right Order in our lives as we tread the paths of Devotion, Knowledge and of Service. The great Persian Empire spread these truths but also absorbed much that was unwanted. Its place was taken by Mithraism again which had remained pure throughout the ages and opened only to Zarathushtra's beautiful Teachings. Then came the decline of the Iranian peoples until now only a few hundred thousand Parsis remain of that magnificent race, but not before they had helped Mithraism to spread throughout the Western world.

MITRAIC INFLUENCE

Alexandra's library had a great many Mitraic works and later Mithraism became widespread in the Celtic Empire of the Romans. Christianity took its place showing however, many Mitraic influences such as the placing the Christ's birth at the winter solstice, the beginning of a journey of a new Sun to spread its beneficent beams on a suffering world. Islam too was modified by Mithra in its teachings of tolerance and brotherhood, and its marvellous works of sculpture, architecture and poetry joined those of the Iranians.

The Indo-Aryans are perhaps the greatest benefactors of mankind as a nation. India was already populated by representatives of the Atlantean Root-Race who being inferior to the new stock fell naturally into the position of servants—this allowing plentiful time

SINO-JAPANESE DISCUSSIONS

Several Questions Still Unsettled

Nanking, Nov. 12.

A spokesman of the Japanese Embassy told the press that although progress had been made at the seventh parley between General Chang Chun and Mr. Kawagoe which took place on the 10th instant, there were several questions yet to be settled. Both sides, however, were of the opinion, he asserted, that further negotiations would be required before coming to an understanding.

These parleys, he went on, had been taking place for quite a long time, and both governments were unanimous in the hope of bringing the matter to a settlement at an early date.

At any rate, concluded the Japanese diplomat, Mr. Kawagoe would not leave the Chinese capital before definite conclusions could be drawn.

SUIYUAN SKIRMISHES

Mr. Matsumoto, official spokesman of the Japanese Embassy in Nanking, in answer to a questionaire put to him by a representative of the Da-Dao News Service whether it would affect the Chang Chun-Kawagoe negotiations in case of an outbreak of war in the northern part of Suiyuan, now that minor skirmishes were going on there between the Chinese troops and "Manchukuoan" forces, said that was only an internal problem for the Chinese Government, and had nothing to do with Japan.

The engagements there, he went on, were between the Chinese Government troops and bandits. Even if war were to break out at all it would not affect the parleys in Nanking, he concluded.—Da-Dao News Service.

SITUATION EASIER

Tokyo, Nov. 12.

Informed quarters point out that the Japanese had put off the two points, temporarily at least, which constituted the main objections of the Chinese Government, viz. the North China question and the joint defence against communists. This, however, had made the situation easier, and it seemed likely that a settlement could be reached earlier than expected.—Da-Dao News Service.

for meditation and spiritual activities on the part of their masters. Thus India's chief gifts have been her magnificent Sacred books and other Ancient and Divinely-given Scriptures. The first gift was more to India itself, from the Manu of the 5th Root-Race. He outlined a social order of precise perfection and He assigned to each level of evolution a special set of duties. This caused the four Castes of India; the present form, however, being definitely an abuse of the original Law.

FOUR GREAT PERIODS

There are four great periods of Indo-Aryan history in India. Each had and has its particular gift. The first was merely a time of warfare but left a tradition of courage and mercy which still inspires. The second period began a long and astonishingly productive cycle, and was one of meditation, of many sacred books (the Vedas and others), and the time of the advent of Shri Krishna who presented that great Indian Scripture—the Bhagavad-Gita.

Then came the third period where the priceless gem of Buddhism initiated by the Lord Gautama spread to the Atlantean nations of Ceylon, Burma, Tibet, China and Japan and now has half the population of the world as its adherents. The fourth or Puranic period saw India's temporary decline but still there were many contributions to world welfare. There were other great teachers—the Divine Child Krishna and Shri Vivekananda who spread the devotional school of Brahma Krishna. More recently India's gifts have taken the shape of art and at present the world may view many of her treasures, especially those of architecture.

Thus India's gift has been a full one. Offering development of the spiritual, mental and physical principles in man. "The East will rise and teach anew the West."

An animated discussion that followed brought out the fact that an ever-growing tolerance was now spread among nations and the meeting was terminated by a meditation on those lines.

DEATH SENTENCE

Marseilles, Nov. 12.

One hundred and twenty members of the Monarchist syndicate in Barcelona, whose names had become known to the police in that city from a list found on a Monarchist recently arrested near the Franco-Spanish border, have been sentenced to death by the Peoples Court and executed by shooting, according to a report here from Barcelona. The message asserts that the man in whose possession the list was found, confessed to the police that the members of the Monarchist syndicate plan to commit a series of criminal acts on foreign consulates in Barcelona, in order to involve the Catalan Government in international complications.

Another report from Barcelona asserts that the police have decided to arrest immediately between 7,000 and 8,000 prominent persons, ages as hostages if Madrid should fall. The list containing the names of those selected for detention has already been compiled.—Times News Service.

NEW PATRONESS OF CHINESE Y.W.C.A.

Lady Caldecott Welcomed

WORK OF ASSOCIATION DESCRIBED

Lady Caldecott, the wife of His Excellency the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, was welcomed as Patroness of the Chinese Young Women's Christian Association yesterday afternoon, when a successful "At Home" the first function of this nature, was held. Mrs. Paul S. F. Tso, President of the Association, was in the chair, and others present included Mrs. T. H. King, Mrs. H. G. Seth-Smith, Dr. (Mrs.) L. I. Nash, and Dr. (Miss) P. Rut-tonjee.

SPEECH OF WELCOME

Addressing the gathering Mrs. Tso said:—

"Lady Caldecott, fellow-members and friends: We are proud and privileged to have in our midst such a pleasant company of Hong Kong's leading women. We are particularly honoured to have Lady Caldecott with us this afternoon. Our Patroness has been out here but five months. Yet she seems already an old friend and a long champion of this Colony's poor and needy. No cause is too humble for her to champion; no institution too lowly for her to adorn. Like Mother Nature she shows her rain of kindness upon the just as well as the unjust, so long as they are in direct need. In the short space of a few months Lady Caldecott and His Excellency the Governor have greatly stimulated the social conscience of the Colony. We members of the Y.W.C.A. deeply conscious of this stimulation and are being encouraged by their example to forge ahead.

STRIKE OF COTTON MILL OPERATIVES

Shanghai, Nov. 13.

Yesterday over 2,500 operatives of the Kung Tai No. 2, Japanese cotton mills of Shanghai stopped work and joined the strikers of the other mills.

So far, there is no reliable news of the resumption of work by the strikers, but it is understood that negotiations between the mill-owners and strikers are in progress.—Chinese Evening Press.

DEATH OF YOW LIT

Nanking, Nov. 13.

The death of Yow Lit, the aged revolutionary and staunch supporter of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen occurred in Nanking yesterday afternoon, after the party celebrations in memory of Dr. Sun Yat-sen's 71st birthday anniversary.

The late Yow Lit was 72 years of age, and was known as one of the original "Four Comrades" of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen.—Chinese Evening Press.

GOVERNOR PAYS VISIT

To Hong Kong Sanatorium

His Excellency the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott and Lady Caldecott accompanied by Captain Cragg, A.D.C. and the Honourable Dr. A. R. Wellington, D.M.S.S., visited the Hong Kong Sanatorium and Hospital, Happy Valley (formerly known as Yeung Wo Hospital) at 11 a.m. yesterday.

Among those present were the Honourable Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carrie, Secretary for Chinese Affairs and other prominent Chinese medical practitioners of the Colony.

On arrival, His Excellency was received at the gate by Dr. Li Shu Fan, Chairman of Directors, in company with the other Directors, Dr. S. N. Chau, Dr. Li Shu Pui, Dr. C. H. Wan, Dr. T. C. Wong, Dr. Chau Wai Cheung, Dr. W. K. Lok and the Maitron Miss Noreen Lum.

13th Defied!

KOWLOON WEDDING YESTERDAY

It is claimed that Friday, the thirteenth, is an unlucky day. But a charming Kowloon bride yesterday defied this superstition. She was Kathleen Mary Maxwell, who became the bride of Marius Silva, in a charming wedding solemnised at the Kowloon Rosary Church.

The bride had a good reason for defying the superstition as she was born on Friday, the thirteenth.

High Mass was observed prior to the ceremony, in which the Rev. Father, F. M. Rossi, Rector of the Church officiated.

The entrance of the church was adorned with a large bell, made of flowers.

SUICIDE FRUSTRATED

According to a report made at the Kowloon City Police Station, Yip Wah Sang, 23 years, school cadet of Whampoa, residing at 17, Poko Road, Central district, Canton, a native of Sun Tak, was admitted to the Mental Hospital following an attempt to commit suicide while aboard the ferry launch Man On.

The report stated that Yip attempted to jump overboard but was prevented from doing so. He was found to be in a deranged state of mind and of decided suicidal tendencies. He came from Canton, on Thursday night by the s.s. Kwong Tung.

PORTUGAL AS COLONIAL POWER

Interesting Booklet Published

RESULTS "SECOND TO NONE"

We have received an interesting booklet entitled "The Portuguese in Modern Colonisation," published by the Portuguese Republic Colonial Office. Twenty-seven pages in length, it contains the full text of a speech delivered at the opening of the 22nd meeting of the International Colonial Institute in Lisbon on April 18, 1933, by H. E. Dr. Armindo Monteiro, then Minister for the Colonies of Portugal.

A full statement of the revenue and expenditure of the Portuguese Colonial Budgets from 1930 to 1934, is also contained in the publication.

H. E. Dr. Monteiro states: "The Portuguese colonies may serve as a typical example of colonisation, carried on by a poorly populated and modestly rich country, with results that may more than hold their own with those obtained by rich and densely populated nations. At the actual moment the Portuguese colonies count 60,000 Europeans and 120,000 assimilates; which means 80 white

Outbreak Of Dysentery

SEVERAL DEATHS REPORTED

WARNING ISSUED TO PARENTS

"Water Must Be Boiled"

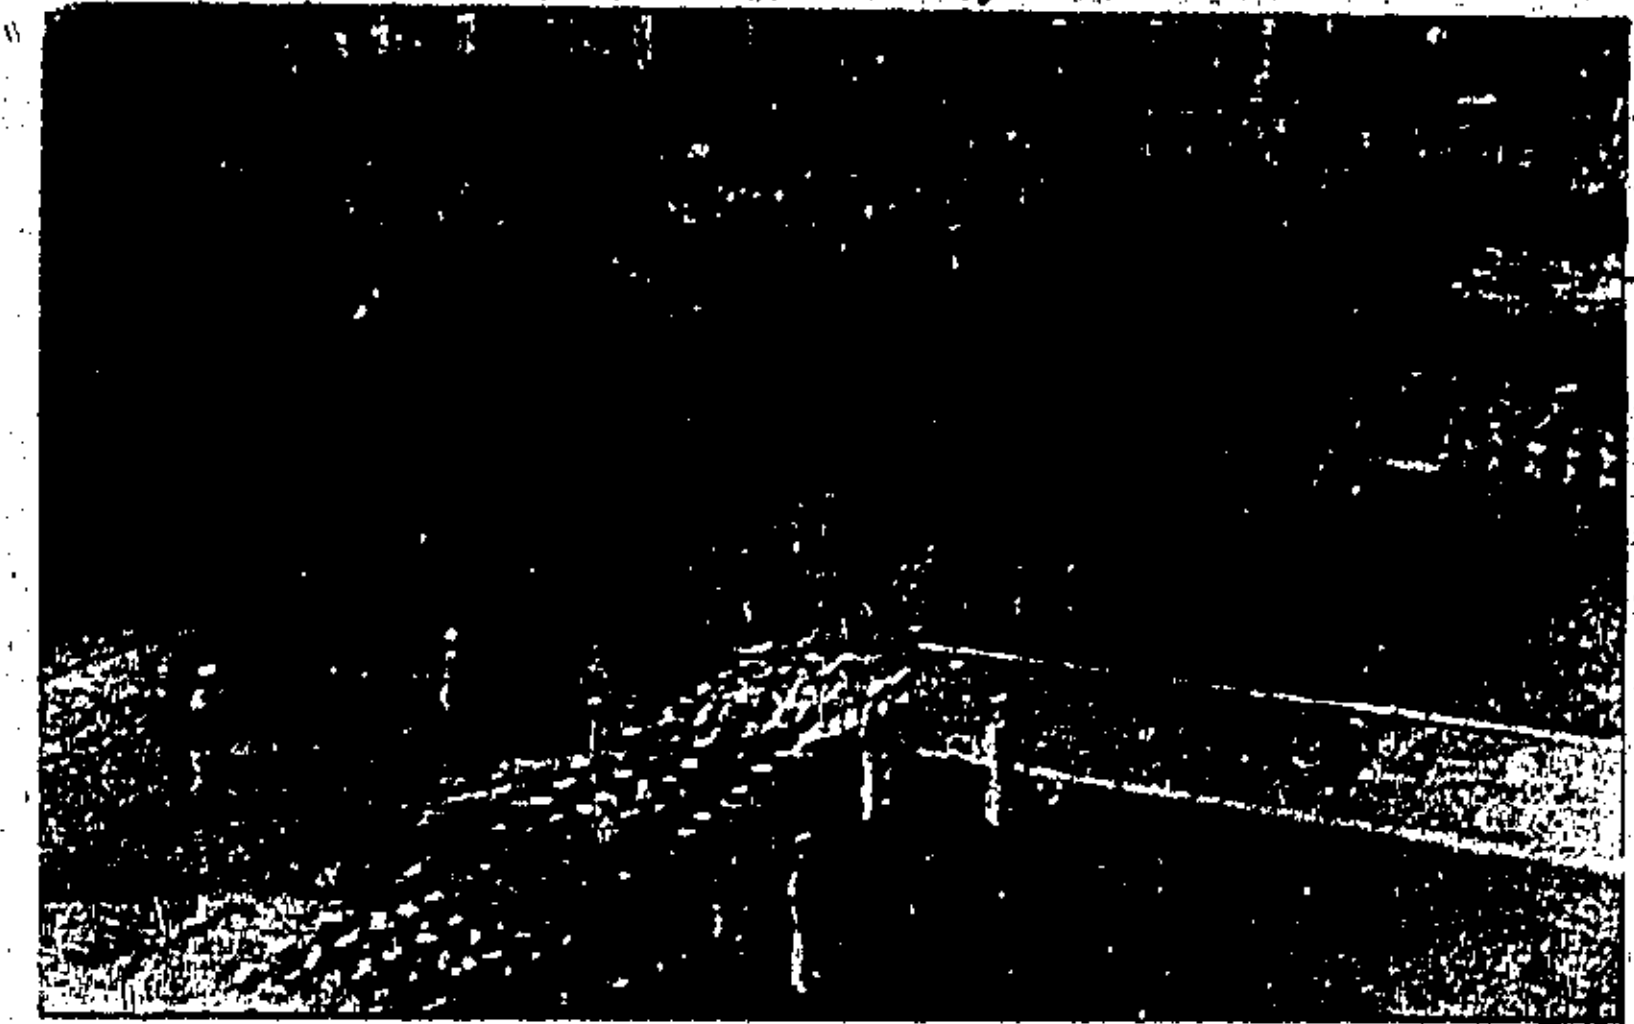

With the death of three foreign children yesterday morning from dysentery, the outbreak of this disease is assuming alarming proportions in the Colony. To date there have been five deaths during the past three days.

There are nearly fifty cases of dysentery in local hospitals, those in which the children are the sufferers being the most serious. The epidemic apparently commenced on Tuesday and since then it has grown.

The authorities are having some difficulty in tracing the source of the disease, which may be attributable to foodstuffs. A warning to parents was revealed in an interview given to the Press by Dr. G. W. Pope, Government Medical Officer of Health, yesterday afternoon, who said, "Parents should not, under any circumstances, give uncooked foodstuffs to their children. This applies to all foodstuffs, particularly milk. Water should also be boiled."

Then came the third period where the priceless gem of Buddhism initiated by the Lord Gautama spread to the Atlantean nations of Ceylon, Burma, Tibet, China and Japan and now has half the population of the world as its adherents. The fourth or Puranic period saw India's temporary decline but still there were many contributions to world welfare. There were other great teachers—the Divine Child Krishna and Shri Vivekananda who spread the devotional school of Brahma Krishna. More recently India's gifts have taken the shape of art and at present the world may view many of her treasures, especially those of architecture.

Thus India's gift has been a full one. Offering development of the spiritual, mental and physical principles in man. “The East will rise and teach anew the West.”

An animated discussion that followed brought out the fact that an ever-growing tolerance was now spread among nations and the meeting was terminated by a meditation on these lines.

DEATH SENTENCE

Marseilles, Nov. 12.

One hundred and twenty members of the Monarchist syndicate in Barcelona, whose names had become known to the police in that city from a list found on a Monarchist recently arrested, near the Franco-Spanish border, have been sentenced to death by the Peoples Court and executed by shooting, according to a report here from Barcelona. The message asserts that the man in whose possession the list was found, confessed to the police that the members of the Monarchist syndicate plan to commit a series of criminal acts on foreign consulates in Barcelona, in order to involve the Catalan Government in international complications.

Another report from Barcelona asserts that the police have decided to arrest immediately between 7,000 and 8,000 prominent persons, ages as hostages if Madrid should fall. The list containing the names of those selected for detention has already been compiled.—Trinacran News Service.

NEW PATRONESS OF CHINESE Y.W.C.A.

Lady Caldecott Welcomed
WORK OF ASSOCIATION
DESCRIBED

Lady Caldecott, the wife of His Excellency the Governor, Sir Andrew Caldecott, was welcomed as Patroness of the Chinese Young Women's Christian Association yesterday afternoon, when a successful "At Home," the first function of this nature, was held. Mrs. Paul S. F. Tso, President of the Association, was in the chair, and others present included Mrs. T. H. King, Mrs. H. G. Seth-Smith, Dr. (Mrs.) L. F. Nash, and Dr. (Miss) P. Rutledge.

SPEECH OF WELCOME
Addressing the gathering Mrs. Tso said:—
"Lady Caldecott, fellow-members and friends. We are proud and privileged to have in our midst such a pleasant company of Hong Kong's leading women. We are particularly honoured to have Lady Caldecott with us this afternoon. Our Patroness has been out here but five months. Yet she seems already an old friend and age-long champion of this Colony's poor and needy. No cause is too humble for her to champion: no institution too lowly for her to adorn. Like Mother Nature she showers her rain of kindness upon the just as well as the unjust, so long as they are in direct need. In the short space of a few months Lady Caldecott and His Excellency the Governor have greatly stimulated the social conscience of the Colony. We members of the Y.W.C.A. are deeply conscious of this stimulation and are being encouraged by their example to forge ahead.

STRIKE OF COTTON MILL OPERATIVES

Shanghai, Nov. 13.
Yesterday over 2,500 operatives of the Kung Tai No. 2 Japanese cotton mills of Shanghai stopped work and joined the strikers of the other mills.
So far, there is no reliable news of the resumption of work by the strikers, but it is understood that negotiations between the mill-owners and strikers are in progress.—

DEATH OF YOW LIT

Nanking, Nov. 13.
The death of Yow Lit, the aged revolutionary and staunch supporter of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen occurred in Nanking yesterday afternoon, after the party celebrations in memory of Dr. Sun Yat-sen's 71st birthday anniversary.
The late Yow Lit was 72 years of age, and was known as one of the original "Four Comrades" of the late Dr. Sun Yat-sen.—

13th Defied!

KOWLOON WEDDING YESTERDAY

It is claimed that Friday, the thirteenth is an unlucky day. But a charming Kowloon bride yesterday defied this superstition. She was Kathleen Mary Maxwell, who became the bride of Marius Silva, in a charming wedding solemnised at the Kowloon Rosary Church.

The bride had a good reason for defying the superstition as she was born on Friday, the thirteenth. High Mass was observed prior to the ceremony, in which the Rev. Father, F. M. Rossi, Rector of the Church officiated.

The entrance of the church was adorned with a large bell, made of flowers.

SUICIDE FRUSTRATED

According to a report made at the Kowloon City Police Station, Yip Wah Sang, 23 years, school cadet of Whampoa, residing at 17, Poklo Road, Central district, Canton, a native of Sun Tak, was admitted to the Mental Hospital following an attempt to commit suicide while aboard the ferry launch Man On.

The report stated that Yip attempted to jump overboard but was prevented from doing so. He was found to be in a deranged state of mind and of decided suicidal tendencies. He came from Canton on Thursday night by the ss. Kwong Tung.

PORTUGAL AS COLONIAL POWER

Interesting Booklet
Published

RESULTS "SECOND TO NONE"

We have received an interesting booklet entitled "The Portuguese in Modern Colonisation," published by the Portuguese Republic Colonial Office. Twenty-seven pages in length, it contains the full text of a speech delivered at the opening of the 22nd meeting of the International Colonial Institute in Lisbon on April 18, 1933, by H. E. Dr. Armindo Monteiro, then Minister for the Colonies of Portugal.

A full statement of the revenue and expenditure of the Portuguese Colonial Budgets from 1930 to 1934, is also contained in the publication.

H. E. Dr. Monteiro states: "The Portuguese colonies may serve as a typical example of colonisation, carried on by a poorly populated and modestly rich country, with results that may more than hold their own with those obtained by rich and densely populated nations." At the actual moment the Portuguese colonies count 60,000 Europeans and 120,000 assimilated, which means 80 white

Outbreak Of Dysentery

SEVERAL DEATHS
REPORTED

WARNING ISSUED
TO PARENTS

"Water Must Be Boiled"

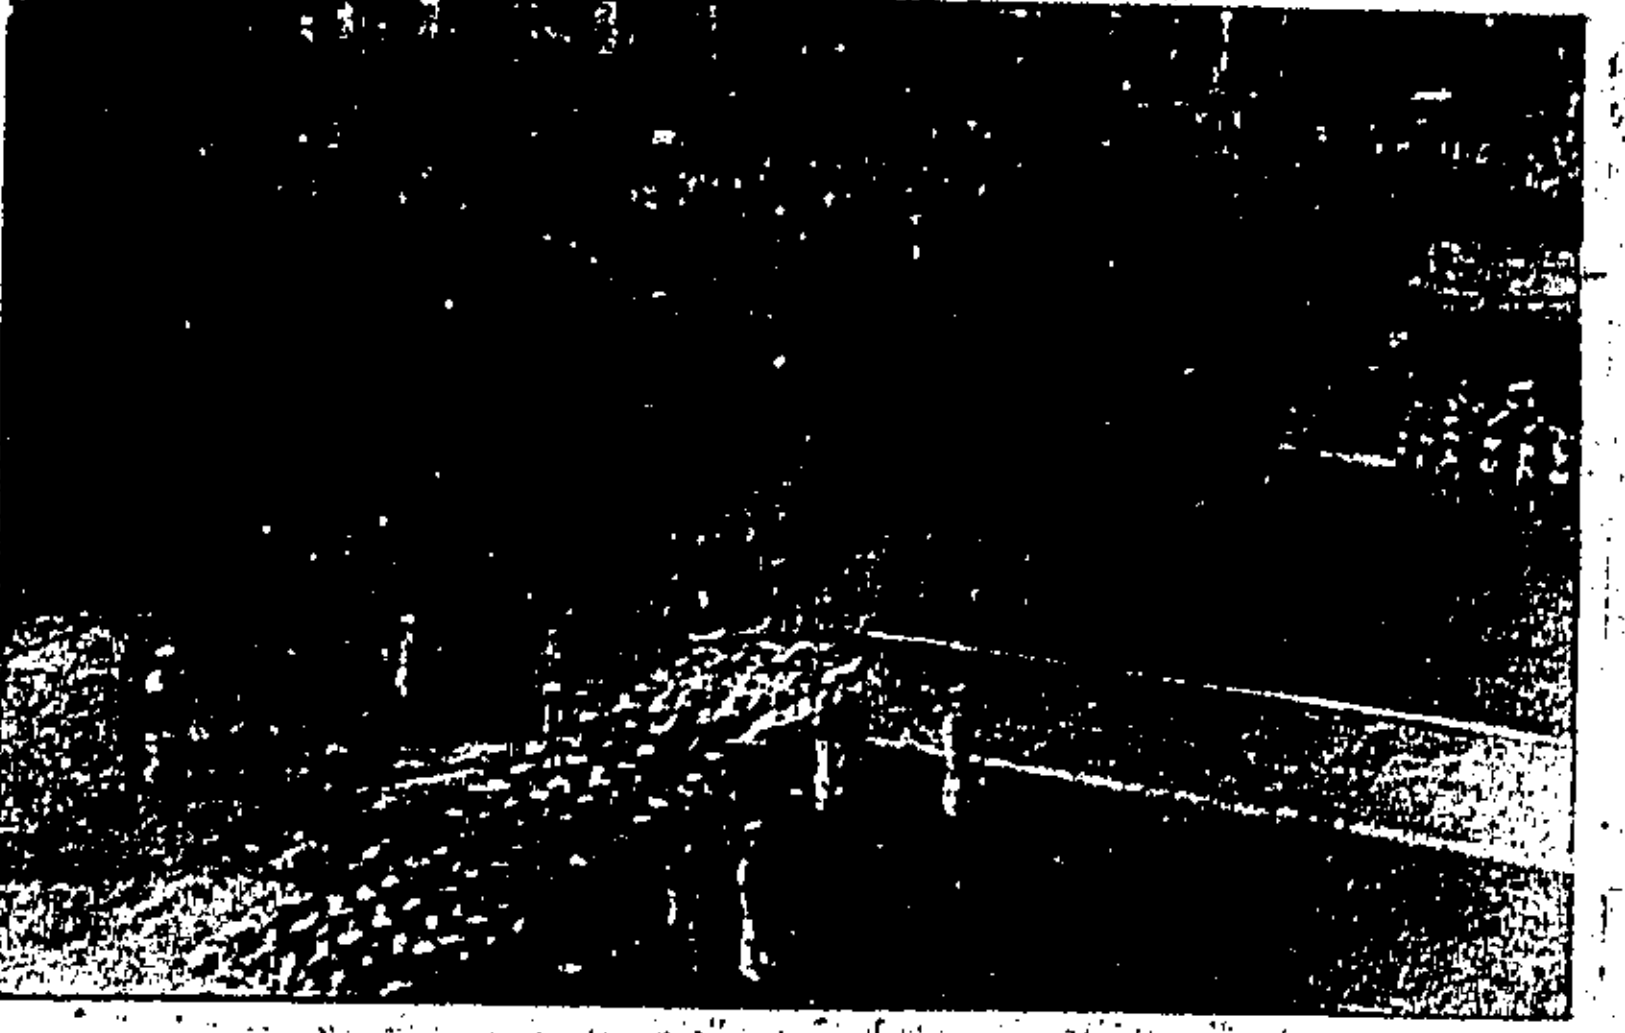

With the death of three foreign children yesterday morning from dysentery, the outbreak of this disease is assuming alarming proportions in the Colony. To date there have been five deaths during the past three days.

There are nearly fifty cases of dysentery in local hospitals, those in which the children are the sufferers being the most serious. The epidemic apparently commenced on Tuesday and since then it has grown.

The authorities are having some difficulty in tracing the source of the disease, which may be attributable to foodstuffs. A warning to parents was revealed in an interview given to the Press by Dr. G. W. Pope, Government Medical Officer of Health, yesterday afternoon, who said, "Parents should not, under any circumstances, give uncooked foodstuffs to their children. This applies to all foodstuffs, particularly milk. Water should also be boiled."

ALTERATION IN DATES

American Mail And Dollar Lines

The Dollar Steamship Lines advise having received information that the "President Lincoln" originally scheduled to sail from Manila this afternoon, will be delayed four days and will sail from Manila on Wednesday, November 18, to arrive in Hong Kong on Friday, November 20, four days behind schedule.

The "President Lincoln" is now scheduled to sail from Hong Kong at midnight on Friday, November 20, and will make regular calls at Shanghai, Kobe and Yokohama, but will not call at Honolulu, proceeding direct from Yokohama to San Francisco.

The American Mail Line steamer "President McKinley" will sail seven days late from Manila, arriving Hong Kong at daylight on Friday, November 27, and will sail at midnight the same day for San Francisco, following the same route as that of the "President Lincoln."

Both the "President Lincoln" and "President McKinley" on sailing from Yokohama will proceed to San Francisco direct.

Hong Kong Hotel

Mr. A. G. Piovanielli, General Manager of the Hong Kong Hotel, sailed yesterday for Shanghai where he will be engaged in business for the Hong Kong and Shanghai Hotels Ltd., for a fortnight.

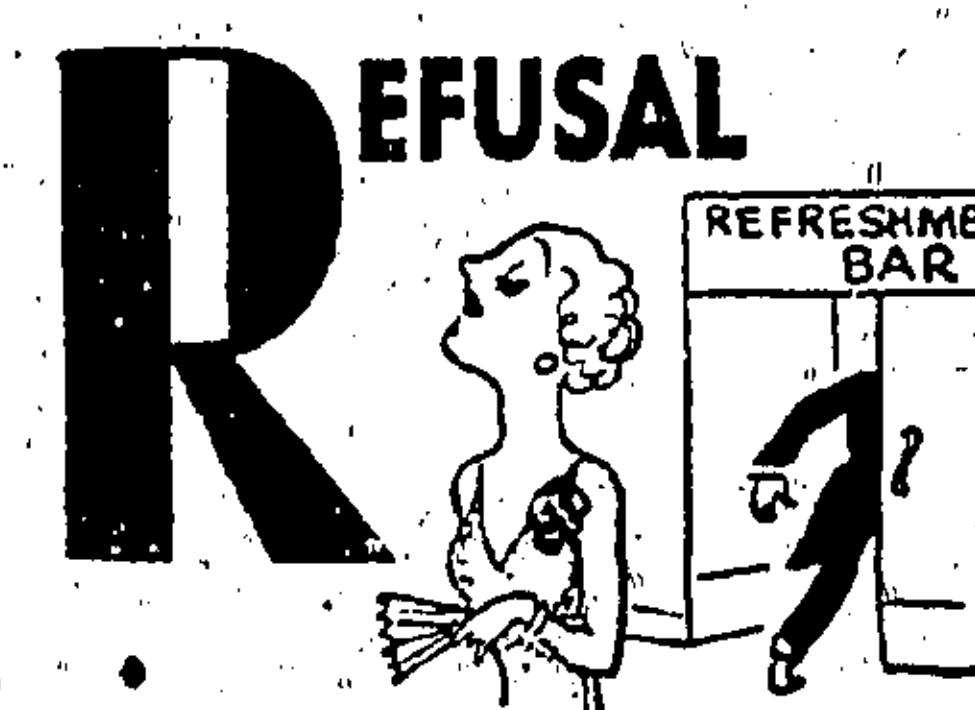

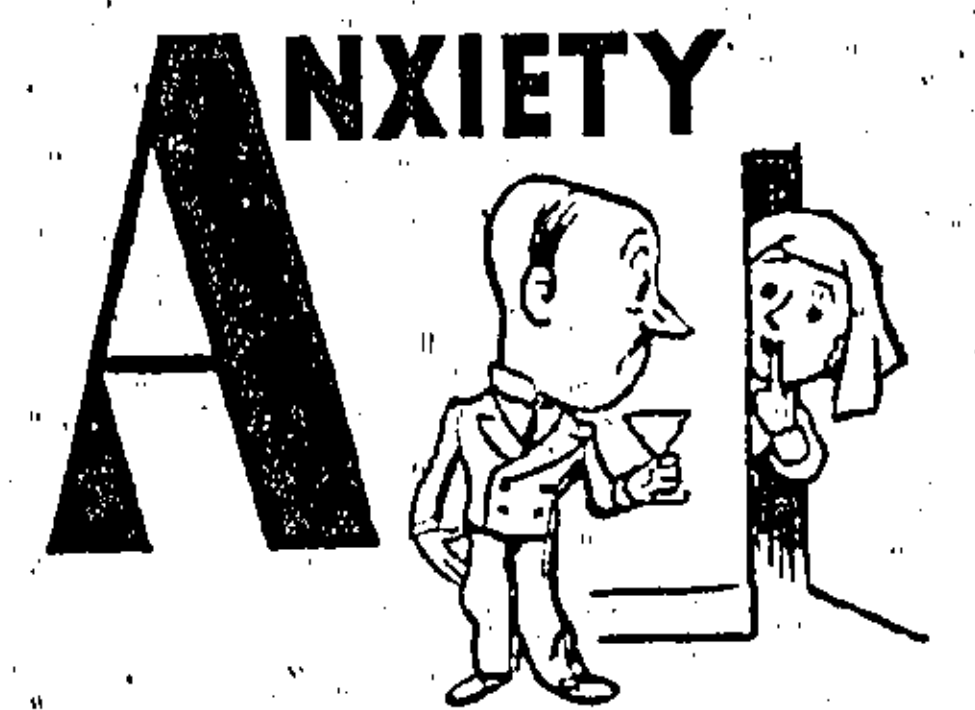

During his absence the assistant manager, Mr. O. A. Kaluzhny, will act as General Manager.

"THE GIFTS OF THE NATIONS"

India's Contribution To Mankind

MRS. TALATI'S ADDRESS

Apparently the series of lectures illustrating the Plan of Universal Evolution being given at the Manuk Lodge of the Theosophical Society, at 1B Chater Road is attracting considerable attention. The regular Thursday audiences have been growing and last Thursday, found the lodge room nearly full, when the first of a symposium of two speakers on "The Gifts of the Nations" was held.

Mrs. O. M. Parkinson (President of the Lodge) announced that it was originally planned to hold a symposium of three speakers, all in one hour. This had however, to be altered.

The speaker went on to say that the Plan of Evolution for this planet included the development of great Root-Races (such as the Aryan) with their sub-races (such as the Indo-Aryans, Arabians, Iranians, Kelts and Teutons). Each sub-race had its own particular characteristic and was best fitted to give its peculiar gift to the world.

Mrs. Parkinson concluded, by saying that Mrs. M. P. Talati would talk on two of the Asiatic sub-races of the Aryan Root-Race, those being the Indo-Aryans and the Iranians.

THE SAME STOCK

There was much evidence, began Mrs. Talati, showing that the Indo-Aryans and the Iranians (or Persians) were of the same stock and had for an empire a vast domain in Central Asia. Ancient books show that at one time their religion, language and culture were the same. This religion was one of multiple gods. The Devas of Spirits of Earth, Air, Water, Fire, the Sun, Moon and the Stars were all worshipped with considerable admixture of black magic.

Beyond all this they conceived of a Supreme God, Asura-Varuna who had before him other Gods of almost equal power. Then, fortunately, pervading all this was the beneficent Mithra Cult which taught brotherliness, purity and love as well as revealing the Mysteries to those who were ready for them. The climate became considerably cooler and when a dispute arose on some religious points the Indo-Aryans moved southwards to the banks of the Indus from which they derived their name and from whence they spread throughout India.

ESTABLISHED AN EMPIRE

The Iranians then moved westward and there established a great commercial empire. Then to halt the corruption that followed, was paved the way for Iran's greatest gift to the world—the Advent of Zarathustra. Zarathustra gave the world a new religion. He taught that there was only one great Pervading God—Ahura-Mazda the Creator, the Father and Sustainer, the same God of all the religions. To reach Him there must be Right Order in our lives as we tread the paths of Devotion, Knowledge and of Service. The great Persian Empire spread these truths but also absorbed much that was unwanted. Its place was taken by Mithraism again which had remained pure throughout the ages and opened only to Zarathustra's beautiful Teachings. Then came the decline of the Iranian peoples until now only a few hundred thousand Parsis remain of that magnificent race, but not before they had helped Mithraism to spread throughout the Western world.

MITRAIC INFLUENCE

Alexandra's Library had a great many Mitraic works and later Mithraism became widespread in the Celtic Empire of the Romans. Christianity took its place showing however, many Mitraic influences such as the placing the Christ's birth at the winter solstice, the beginning of a journey of a new Sun to spread its beneficent beams on a suffering world. Islam too was modified by Mithra in its teachings of tolerance and brotherhood, and its marvellous works of sculpture, architecture and poetry joined those of the Iranians.

The Indo-Aryans are perhaps the greatest benefactors of mankind as a nation. India was already populated by representatives of the Atlantean Root-Race who being inferior to the new stock fell naturally into the position of servants—this allowing plentiful time

SINO-JAPANESE DISCUSSIONS

Several Questions Still Unsettled

Nanking, Nov. 12.

A spokesman of the Japanese Embassy told the press that although progress had been made at the seventh parity between General Chang Chun and Mr. Kawagoe which took place on the 10th instant, there were several questions yet to be settled. Both sides, however, were of the opinion, he asserted, that further negotiations would be required before coming to an understanding.

These parleys, he went on, had been taking place for quite a long time, and both governments were unanimous in the hope of bringing the matter to a settlement at an early date.

At any rate, concluded the Japanese diplomat, Mr. Kawagoe would not leave the Chinese capital before definite conclusions could be drawn.

SUIYUAN SKIRMISHES

Mr. Matsumoto, official spokesman of the Japanese Embassy in Nanking, in answer to a question, put to him by a representative of the Da-Dao News Service whether it would affect the Chang Chun-Kawagoe negotiations in case of an outbreak of war in the northern part of Suiyuan, now that minor skirmishes were going on there between the Chinese troops and "Manchukuoan" forces, said that was only an internal problem for the Chinese Government, and had nothing to do with Japan.

SITUATION EASIER

Tokyo, Nov. 12.

Informed quarters point out that the Japanese had put off the two points, temporarily at least, which constituted the main objections of the Chinese Government, viz. the North China question and the joint defence against communists. This, however, had made the situation easier, and it seemed likely that a settlement could be reached earlier than expected.—Da-Dao News Service.

for meditation and spiritual activities on the part of their masters. Thus India's chief gifts have been her magnificent Sacred books and other Ancient and Divinely-given Scriptures. The first gift was more to India itself, from the Manu of the 5th Root-Race. He outlined a social order of precise perfection and He assigned to each level of evolution a special set of duties. This caused the four Castes of India; the present form, however, being definitely an abuse of the original Law.

FOUR GREAT PERIODS

There are four great periods of Indo-Aryan history in India. Each had and has its particular gift. The first was merely a time of warfare but left a tradition of courage and mercy which still inspires. The second period began a long and astonishingly productive cycle, and was one of meditation, of many sacred books (the Vedas and others) and the time of the advent of Shri Krishna who presented that great Indian Scripture—the Bagavad-Gita.

Then came the third period where the priceless gem of Buddhism initiated by the Lord Gautama spread to the Atlantean nations of Ceylon, Burma, Tibet, China and Japan and now has half the population of the world as its adherents. The fourth or Puranic period saw India's temporary decline but still there were many contributions to world welfare. There were other great teachers—the Divine Child Krishna and Shri Vivekanda who spread the devotional school of Brahma Krishna. More recently India's gifts have taken the shape of art and at present the world may view many of her treasures, especially those of architecture.

Thus India's gift has been a full one. Offering development of the spiritual, mental and physical principles in man. "The East will rise and teach anew the West."

An animated discussion that followed brought out the fact that an ever-growing tolerance was now spread among nations and the meeting was terminated by a meditation on those lines.

"Night Must Fall"
THE UNIVERSAL SPHINX(BY "SCRUTATOR")

Speaking to a few of the intelligent people who enjoyed the recent entertainment provided by the A.D.C. we each wondered why we had laughed at the various sexual references which occur in the first act of William's play. Is there anything funny in the fact that a girl is going to have a baby? What is there distinctively humorous in a man and a girl lying together on pine-needles? In short, is there anything funny about sex?

Sex is one eternal formulation of the universal Sphinx.

To say that it is Nature's way of perpetuating the human race is not even half an answer. Why does Nature perpetuate the race, and why does she use this method? If we could answer these questions we would know a lot more about the eternal significance of our selves.

How can we discover the true meaning of sex?

History is not very enlightening. The amount of man's speculation and thought on the subject has been surpassed only by the immense variety of his experiments. It is the one sphere where everything seems to have been tried, at least once. But of all experiments that of the Victorian era is surely the most irreligious and unscientific.

It was founded on a belief in the value of respectability, and involved a double standard of morality—one for men and another for women. But this double standard necessitated a class of women to double the standard with, and even professing Christians and Churchmen argued that prostitution was inevitable if the niceness or respectability was to be preserved. This contention was based on the property relationship which existed between the sexes, a relationship which imposed an intolerable economic helplessness upon intelligent women. Of all proffered solutions that of the Victorian marriage is undoubtedly the furthest from the truth of life.

MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE
Unfortunately this solution has become associated in the public mind with Christianity with which it has not the slightest connection. True, it received the sanction of the Church, but the sanction of the Church is no guarantee of Christian value. To dogmatize that every marriage is a sacrament, a means whereby a conviction of the goodness of life and of God is mediated to the individual, is to necessitate luxury, a sacrament of divorce whereby that conviction may be restored when marriage proves to be a sacrament of sin, as it so often does.

The nearest approach to this is the practice of annulment of marriage instituted by the Roman Church, whereby she declares that what was believed to have been, has not been. But the Victorian marriage and the system of morality based upon it have broken down completely.

Modern solutions abound in plenty, but they have all one common feature, they are all ancient, they have each been proved valueless.

Indeed, the sex story of our race is the most difficult obstacle in the way of an intelligent belief in the goodness of God, for even to appeal to the teaching of Christ to prove the naturalness of monogamy is to invite contradiction from history and racial experience.

ETERNAL PURPOSE

"What God hath joined let not man put asunder" is not a statement of natural law, nor a command binding upon man's temporal existence, but the proclamation of the eternal purpose of God for men and women, which like many other aspects of His purpose—peace, brotherhood, universal love—has still to be worked out, painfully and hardly by the human race.

We have the authority of Christ for believing that full and true meaning of sex will be discovered only when two free, spiritually minded individuals unite their lives, not primarily for the procreation of children, but for the glory of God and for the service of mankind.

Unless men and women keep that purpose continually before them in all sexual relationships "night must fall," the night of blindness and disease and death in which civilization will sink, not to a mere paganism, but to an utter depravity of mind and purpose.

"MORTALS AND IMMORTALS"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON SERMON

Subject: "Mortals and Immortals."
The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches to-morrow November 15th, will be "Mortals and Immortals."

The Golden Text will be: "If ye live after the flesh, ye shall die, but if ye through the Spirit, do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God." (Romans 8. 13.)

Amongst others, the following citations from the Bible will be read: "Now a certain man, was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha. When Jesus heard that, he said, The sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby. Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already. Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died. Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto her, 'I am the resurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believeth thou this? Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me. And I knew that thou hearest me always, but because of the people that stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.' And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, 'Lazarus, come forth.' And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes; and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go. (John 11; 1, 4, 17, 21, 23-26, 41-44.)

The Lesson Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science Textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"Jesus said of Lazarus: 'Our friend Lazarus sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep.' Jesus restored Lazarus by the understanding that Lazarus had never died, not by an admission that his body had died and then lived again. Had Jesus believed that Lazarus had lived or died in his body the master would have stood on the same plane of belief as those who buried the body, and he could not have re-animated it. When being is understood, Life will be recognized as neither material or finite, but as infinite—as God, universal good; and the belief that life, or mind, was ever in a finite form, or good, in evil, will be destroyed. Then it will be understood that Spirit never entered matter and was therefore never raised from matter. When advanced to spiritual being and the understanding of God, man can no longer commune with matter; neither can he return to it, any more than a tree can return to its seed. Neither will man seem to be corporeal, but he will be an individual consciousness, characterized by the divine Spirit as idea, not matter. Suffering, sinning, dying beliefs are unreal. When divine Science is universally understood, they will have no power over man, for man is immortal and lives by divine authority. (Pages 75, 76.)

CATHOLIC NEWS AND NOTES

CONGRESS IN MANILA

The long-awaited announcement has just been made that arrangements have been concluded for a special ship to convey travellers from Hong Kong to Manila in connection with the International Eucharistic Congress which will be held there next February. The delay was caused by protracted negotiations which went on with various shipping lines, and finally it was decided to use a local steamer, the S.S. Haitan, of the Douglas line.

This steamer will make a special journey to Manila for the exclusive use of those attending the Congress. It will serve as a hotel during the stay in Manila and will then bring the party back to Hong Kong. The whole trip will last from Sunday, January 31, until Tuesday, February 9, and it is expected that a great number of people from all over South China will avail themselves of these facilities to participate in an event which is unique in the history of the Far East.

In order to suit the convenience of all classes there is a wide scale of accommodation on the steamer, with inclusive charges at $80, $125, $150, $250 and $300.

CARDINAL DOUGHERTY

On their way to the Manila Congress many distinguished visitors, both ecclesiastics and lay people, will pass through Hong Kong. Among them is likely to be Cardinal Dougherty, who is to be Papal Legate—the Pope's personal representative—at the Congress. Cardinal Dougherty, who is Archbishop of Philadelphia, is no stranger to the Philippines, for he spent several years there as Bishop of American Islands after they had passed from Spanish to American rule. He is the first Cardinal outside Rome to be appointed Papal Legate at an International Eucharistic Congress.

EDUCATIONALIST'S VISIT

One of the best-known educationalists in the East visited Hong Kong last week. This is V. Rev. Bro. James, O.B.E., I.S.O., Visitor of the Christian Brothers' Schools in the Far East. Bro. James has given a lifetime to the cause of education, and there are few men living better versed in all the problems that vex the schools of China, Malaya and the Philippines. He comes to Hong Kong twice every year to visit St. Joseph's College and La Salle College. After his stay on the present occasion he went on to Penang.

"CHRISTIAN FRONT"

With news arriving of various "Fronts" being formed in different countries, it is interesting to read that the need of a "Christian Front" was voiced at a meeting of Catholic English women which filled the Albert Hall to overflowing in London. The purpose of the proposed Front would be the defence of Christian morals, Social Teaching and National Life, and war against modern infidelity. Approval of the suggestion was given by more than 10,000 women who were present.

BROTHERHOOD MUST BE STRENGTHENED

One of the most consoling thoughts aroused by Armistice Day is that among those who took part in the war in the armies and navies of different countries hostile to one another, has given place to a feeling of brotherhood, and one is inclined to reflect on the good that could be achieved for the peace of the world if this feeling of brotherhood aroused by common contact with heroism and with suffering could be strengthened. It is not generally known that this is actually done among Catholic War Veterans, whose annual meeting in Europe provides one of the most remarkable manifestations of the year. This year they met at Lourdes, in the South of France, 150,000, made up of representatives of all the nations that took part in the war, were present and took part in the religious exercises which were the purpose of their meeting. These lasted for three days and had a remarkable international character. Next year the assembly will take place in Austria.

WATERFRONT SENSATION

Sequel To Arrest
Of European

COURT APPEARANCE
—BAIL $5,000

Following the arrest of James Johnston, 52, a native of Scotland, and Chief Officer on the S.S. Chuen Chow, a vessel on the Hong Kong-Macao run, the accused was charged before Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Revenue Officer A. W. Grimmer arrested the defendant on Thursday morning on information received, and four charges were preferred against him.

It was alleged that on November 11, he imported 72 tins of raw opium and 18 tins of prepared opium from Macao. Two alternative charges related to possession of the above opium.

Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios appeared on behalf of the accused while R. O. Grimmer represented the prosecution. Remand was granted till November 18, and bail was set at $5,000.

It was intimated that others are alleged to be implicated in the smuggling charges.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGES

Case Against
European Again
Remanded

A week's formal remand was granted to C. D. I. Murphy when he appeared for the prosecution against Joseph Charles Gardner, on charges of embezzling over $2,000 from the Union Insurance Company of Canton, at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Mr. Murphy told the Magistrate, Mr. K. Keen, that further time was needed to check over the books of 1935, and that the case would be taken for committal.

The Asst.-Attorney General, Mr. E. H. Williams, will prosecute at the next hearing.

OLD EMPLOYEE'S LAPSE

Steals Jewel Box In Master's Absence

Lee Kwan, the manager of a medicine shop at No. 206, Queen's Road, Central, departed from his shop at 7.00 p.m. on November 9, leaving it in charge of one of his foks, Wong Yee, 28. Lee returned a few minutes later, and found that the jewel box he kept in his desk was missing.

Det-Sgt. Cashman told Mr. Keen at the Central Magistracy yesterday that the servant, Wong, was arrested following investigation. The box and one ring was discovered on the roof, while other of the contents were found at No. 252, Hollywood Road.

Of the $50 that was stolen, only $10 had been recovered. There were seventeen promissory notes in the box, but defendant had burned them all. The amounts totalled $3,000. The value of the contents of the box was $417 and $377 was recovered.

Sentencing accused to four months' imprisonment, the Magistrate said that he had taken into consideration the defendants' good record with his firm, where he had been employed for over ten years.

OPIUM POSSESSION

Li Hok, 33, a stoker residing at No. 20 Connaught Road, C., second floor was charged before Mr. E. H. Williams for possession of 30 tins of prepared opium on November 10.

Inspector Andrews said that defendant was arrested near the entrance of the Royal Naval Yard (Kowloon) by Sgt. Mill.

Accused was fined $100, with the alternative of four months' in goal.

MOTORIST FINED

N. Morgenstern was fined $5 at the Central Magistracy yesterday, for driving his car on Fleming Road at 11 p.m., and obstructing traffic in front of the Oriental Theatre, on October 20.

The incident occurred when defendant parked his car while the rush of the theatre patrons was at its height, according to the police.

HOUSE BOY AND WAGES

Action Against Peak Resident

A law suit was brought before Mr. Justice J. J. Hayden at the Summary Court yesterday when Yau Kwok Chung sued his master, Mr. B. G. Birch residing at No. 6, Peak, for not paying the wages due to him.

Yau Kwok Chung said that he had been working for the defendant for 10 days, as cook. The defendant went to the manager of the Peak Hotel and asked for a servant to work for him. The plaintiff was supposed to start work on August 17, but owing to the typhoon he started the next day, wages being agreed at $30 a month.

On September 1, the plaintiff asked for his wages when he saw the defendant pay off two chair coolies, and was told to wait until the end of September.

On September 2, the mistress said that both the house coolie and his work were not satisfactory and he was told to leave. "She said we would not get a cent for our work," stated witness. "We both then went and told the manager of the Peak Hotel."

Mr. Birch said that he had no idea that the servants were dismissed and when the plaintiff came up to him requesting his wages, he was told to wait until the end of the month, as he (the boy) had not worked for one month.

On September 2, the defendant went to the Hong Kong Employment Agency and told them that two servants had left and asked for two substitutes.

Mrs. Birch told his Lordship that she did not dismiss the plaintiff as she was expecting a guest that same day. The coolie was given one month's notice. About 10 a.m. on September 2, the plaintiff asked if the house coolie and he could go, after having their meal. She agreed to this. After a while she required the plaintiff and the coolie and on sending her chair-boy to look for them, she was notified that they had both gone and taken away their cloths.

In his Lordship's summary, he said that it was the custom in Hong Kong to pay the servants at the end of each month for the number of days for which they have been working, and then take the full calendar month to the end. His Lordship pointed out to the complainant that Mrs. Birch denied dismissing him, as she was expecting a guest. No mistress would dismiss her only two indoor servants at such a critical moment, opined his Lordship. Judgment in the sum of $3.14 was given in favour of the plaintiff.

DAMAGING TREES

Local Resident
Catches Woman
Red-Handed

Mr. W. Pittendrigh, of 5, Shouson Hill, was the complainant at the Central Magistracy before Mr. W. Schofield yesterday against a twenty-year old Chinese woman, Chan Sim.

She was found guilty of the theft of a few branches of a wild tree at that address, and was fined $20 or one month in goal.

The complainant stated that the thefts had been going on for a lengthy period of time, and up to the present, no one had been caught red-handed.

There seemed to be a gang operating there, as a sentinel was placed on "a look-out" and always sped to the hillside whenever any one approached.

BAG SNATCHER SENTENCED

Lau Shan, 33, unemployed was brought before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for larceny of a hand bag from a woman.

Inspector Shannon said that on November 12, at Shanghai Street Chu Hang, 30, a married woman, was standing outside a shop-window, when defendant came up and snatched a hand bag from her. A struggle ensued. A district watchman, arrested the defendant. The value of the hand bag and the contents amounted to $120.80.

Sentence of four months' hard labour was imposed.

TRAFFIC OFFENCE

Kowloon Resident
Fined

Mr. J. N. Wong of No. 16 Essex Crescent, Kowloon, Tong was brought before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday for driving private car No. 699 with no lights at 11.15 p.m. on Waterloo Road near Argyle Street. Accused was also alleged to have failed to stop when called upon to do so by an officer in uniform.

Mr. Wong said that he was driving with dim lights for he just had them overhauled and it was likely the mechanic used the wrong voltage bulbs for them.

"I did not notice the officer call to me, for the road was very dark and I could not see anybody on the road," stated accused.

Sgt. White (prosecuting) said that he stood under a lamp post and held out his hand. At the same time he shone his torch to make sure accused had seen him. "I could see the number of the car quite plainly by the light on the road," stated Sgt. White. "When the car passed me the head lights were suddenly turned on."

Defendant reiterated that he failed to see the officer.

Fines totalling $10 were imposed.

CONSTABLE'S DEATH

Enquiry Opened
At Kowloon

TRAINING SCHOOL

Stress through financial worry was put forward as a reason for the untimely end to the life of a Chinese constable who was found shot in his quarters at the Police Training School, Mong Kok on October 6 at 10 a.m.

At the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday where an inquest was opened, the father of the deceased, testified that his son, Mak Yee Sing, P.C. C54 appeared to be in a distressed mood on the night before the tragedy when he visited his parents. Witness said that he was aware of the fact that his son was in arrears in rent for a flat in Yaumati, where he resided with a woman named Lay Sung. His son was unmarried, so far as he was aware.

"My son was 22 years of age and he joined the force in 1934. He liked his job and was happy. I do not know why he killed himself," stated witness.

Sergeant Billingham said that he found the deceased on the floor with a gaping wound on the side of his head.

"My first impression was that he had shot himself," Lam Chui Kai, P.C. C201 stated that he and Mak Yee were friendly. He saw Mak Yee polishing his buttons at 9.00 a.m. on the morning in question prior to going on parade. When Sergeant Billingham was inspecting the parade a loud gun-fire shot was heard, though at the time witness took it to be a fire cracker exploding.

Witness looked about him and was suddenly struck by the thought that his friend was not on parade and informed the European officer of the fact. He was ordered to call him down. When he entered the room he saw deceased lying on the ground in a pool of blood.

The enquiry was adjourned till Wednesday, November 18, at 2.30 p.m. Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen was sitting as Coroner, assisted by the following jury: Messrs. J. Thomson, S. Mosser, and Lu Tak Sam.

FREE GASMASKS

London, Nov. 12.
Mr. Geoffrey Lloyd, Under-Secretary of State for Home Affairs, told the House of Commons today that the Government's factory, nearing completion, expected to produce 2,000,000 gas masks monthly.

These would be issued free to the general public in an emergency.

Substantial stocks of the component parts had already been produced and large-scale assembly would begin shortly, he said.

"ACCIDENTAL DEATH"

The circumstances attending the death of Yip King, 33 a coolie of the Sang Lee Contractor's, was concluded yesterday at the Central Magistracy with Mr. K. Keen sitting as coroner.

The jury was composed of the following: Messrs. R. B. Brown, M. Hess and Li Fook Shun.

At a previous hearing it was revealed that deceased had had a cup of fluid which he thought was tea. The liquid was what is known as "Atlas A", a poison largely used in exterminating white ants.

Deceased was working on a building at the Royal Naval Dockyard when he inadvertently slipped the liquid. He complained of the peculiar taste of the liquid, and was in apparent pain. Rushed to Surg. Lt. Com. R. B. McVicker, deceased lived only long enough to have a stomach douche, before he passed away on the way to the Government Civil Hospital.

Insp. A. E. Carey represented the police.

The first witness yesterday was Cheung Yik, a foreman of the Sang Lee Company, of 2, Ting Lok Lane, and contractors for the erection of a building at the Naval Yard.

He deposed that he was in charge of the shed where the poison was kept, and he received it from the Naval Yard storeroom.

Mr. D. McClure Fisher, chartered surveyor, in the department of the Civil Engineer in Chief, next stated that all necessary precautions were taken in giving out poisons from their storeroom.

QUESTION OF RESPONSIBILITY

Mr. Hess: Who is responsible for the poison after it leaves the dockyard storeroom?—The contractor to whom it has been issued.

Is the store in which it was kept, a property of the dockyard or of the contractor's?—The contractor's, although the dockyard supervises the use to which all materials are put. The shed in which it is kept is a temporary makeshift, and will be demolished on the completion of the job.

Cheung Yik was recalled to the stand when Mr. Hess questioned him further.

Who is responsible for the keeping of the poison in the shed?—I was responsible. I was under orders and I put the poison there. Were you instructed by your superior to keep the poison in a safe place?—I had no instructions of that nature, and we did not know it was poison.

"HAPHAZARD MANNER"

Mr. Keen told the jury that the death was due to the accidental drinking of "Atlas A." The enquiry had disclosed the very haphazard manner in which the fluid was handled all round. Although the poison had been issued to the contractor, no proper receipt had been used nor was it appropriately marked.

The question was whether blame was attached to any person and whether compensation should be granted.

After a short deliberation the jury brought in the verdict that the contractor was responsible for the accidental death of the coolie, Yip King, because of the negligent keeping of the poison, and therefore, the contractor should compensate the widow.

They suggested that in future all poisons should be kept in a closed receptacle, and that it should be distinctly marked "poison," and that the foreman should be instructed as to the danger of poisons.

Inspector Carey: I take it then that death was caused from misadventure?

Mr. Keen: Yes.

Inspector Carey: Then it was not criminal negligence?—No.

BIBLE AND POETRY

Rev. Mackenzie Dow's
Interesting Talk

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP MEETING

A talk on the verbal interpretation of the Bible was given by the Rev. M. Dow at the Christian Fellowship Meeting held yesterday morning in the Athena May Institute.

In opening his talk, the speaker stated that he would continue to deal with the Old Testament but on another line.

The Rev. Dow pointed out that if anyone is 1936 claimed that Shakespeare had stated the King of France said the sun would smile at him. However, the Bard of Avon wrote such in Act. II, Scene I of "King John," in which the King of France, when giving his daughter away in marriage, said, "This blessed day, ever in France shall be kept festival: to solemnise this day the glorious sun stays in his course and plays the Alchemist, turning with splendour of his precious eye the meagre, cloudy earth to glittering gold: the yearly course that brings this day about shall never see it but a new day." The speaker pointed out the similarity of this verse with the one regarding the moon halting in its course which appeared in Joshua.

BIBLE IS POETRY

Much of the Bible was poetry, the speaker said, and it was this fact because it was so, that people remember its verses so easily. Even Christ's words were spoken in poetry and the speaker quoted examples of such instances which were recorded in the Bible.

A startling illustration of the the non-infallibility of the Bible was pointed out by the Rev. Dow who gave as example the story of David who killed the giant Goliath. However, the speaker pointed out, the Bible was a record of the direct utterances of those who were the most high in God but were written down by ordinary men, and being human, they were thus not perfect.

"TREMENDOUS MILL-STONE"

The speaker showed how some words in the Bible to-day were not in the original Hebrew manuscripts. He pointed out that words which appear in Italics in the New Version had no place in the original rendering.

It was his belief, the speaker said, that people who defended the absolute verbal interpretation of the Bible were doing no good at all; they were doing more harm than they realise. "It is a tremendous mill-stone around the Church and believers," the speaker said. "It is suicide for those who defend the infallibility of the Bible. We must understand the Bible." A discussion followed the talk.

SALE OF FLOWERS TO-DAY

Confucian Society Appeal

The Hong Kong Confucian Society, No. 124 Hollywood Road, has sent us the following announcement for publication:—

Our Society, with the support of the general public, once was able to maintain as many as 30 vernacular free schools in the Colony.

Owing to the trade depression in recent years, the number of our free schools has been reduced to 17.

Even to support this comparatively small number of schools, large sums of money are required annually.

As the financial position of our society is very straitened at the present, we are compelled to solicit the assistance of the public by a sale of flowers which will be held to-day and we hope that every body will be pleased to support such a good cause.

Donations will be greatly appreciated by:—

Chan Kam Po, Chairman of the Confucian Society.

MICROPHONE MENACE?

How are dictators made? Possibly we all have theories which, if publicly propounded in a cosmopolitan centre such as Hong Kong, might stimulate a surprising amount of mental activity. Doubtless many enterprising picturesqueness and poetical theories about the creating of dictators, but it is reasonable to presume that few have ever speculated so prosaically as did Sir Thomas Inskip, who is the Minister now responsible for co-ordinating Britain's defences.

Sir Thomas has a theory of his own, which he has just made public; it is that dictators have only become possible through the invention of the microphone. As an historical theory, though, this is surely a bit inadequate. In the first place, dictators are not quite such a modern invention as Sir Thomas seems to think; if he studied the lives of Frederick II. (the Hohenstaufen), Caesar Borgia, Richelieu, and many other potentates of the past, he would find how much they have bequeathed to their modern counterparts and how little any of them owed to the microphone. And even modern dictators have, naturally enough, never been in a position to control the broadcasting of their country until they have established themselves in power.

The only means Mussolini and Hitler had for expressing their views while they were in opposition were the platform and the press. Presumably the original theory that Sir Thomas means to give to the world is that modern inventions make it easier for a ruler to control the thoughts and actions of his subjects. This is so true as to be self-evident, but among modern inventions should be included not only the microphone but also the press and better communications. These all contribute to uniformity in proportions which it is impossible to assess; they all make it a simple matter to reach every corner of a large area in a short time.

Wireless may be, as Sir Thomas said, a contributory factor to unrest and restlessness in the world, but it does not explain dictators.

Sir Thomas's own department, of armaments, causes unrest and restlessness too.

RICKSHAW COOLIES HARD HIT IN CANTON

Canton, Nov. 13. Bitter hardships are felt by rickshaw coolies especially during the present slack season, as all buses charge from to-day round trip fare only ten cents instead of twenty.

The Municipal Bureau of Public Works permits the buses to sell round trip tickets for ten cents. In the past each single trip cost five cents. In view of the extremely low bus fare, very few persons will patronise rickshaws.

Buses are now very crowded. Passengers find it difficult to alight or enter at way stops. General Wang Ying-yu, Provincial Commissioner of Civil Affairs, has recommended to the New Life Committee to ask for more buses for the convenience of minor officials who are not provided with motor cars.

NEW PATRONESS OF CHINESE Y.W.C.A.

I also wish in the name of the Y.W.C.A. to welcome many well-known guests who have graced this occasion with their presence. China resembles England in that the task of relieving want and succouring the needy is committed to voluntary institutions. We are proud to be allowed to share in this voluntary work of repairing broken lives and doctoring broken spirits.

Our work extends from the time-honoured service of giving free education to the poor to the ultra-modern experiment of discredibly imparting eugenic knowledge to mothers in appropriate cases.

MUI TSAI WELFARE

The welfare of the Mui Tsai as well as that of the young mother receives our attention, and our work, though done hitherto in quiet and unobtrusive ways, has yet been substantial enough to engage the time and energy of the majority of this Colony's leading Chinese Christian women.

We feel at this moment, however, that our work requires to be better known, not in order to advertise ourselves, but in order that greater use may be made of us for the good of the Colony and for the greater glory of the Master whom we serve.

PRESS ASSISTANCE

We hope therefore to arouse the interest of the English Press, in our work and through them to bring the Y.W.C.A. into closer touch with the English-speaking community in Hong Kong. Though we cater mainly to the needs of Chinese women and children, yet this work cannot be satisfactorily done without the help and co-operation of our non-Chinese friends, who because they serve the same Master, are co-workers with us in this harvest of teeming souls.

We have purposely invited you all to this International At Home of ours within the Week of Prayer and World Fellowship which is being observed the world over. We have done this as a symbol of our common heritage as Christians. Speaking then not as the member of one race to another, but as one Christian woman to another, I ask you to lend a helping hand. If I may vary a famous call, I should like to say 'Come over to Bonham Road and help us.'

Lady Caldecott and friends of the Y.W.C.A. I heartily welcome you all to our At Home. (Applause).

WORK DESCRIBED

Miss Shih Tak Hing, (Gen. Secretary) next gave a comprehensive survey of the work of the Y.W.C.A. in the course of which she said:

Twenty years ago, a small group of five women had the idea of a Y.W.C.A. in Hong Kong. They realized that life held many experiences which they could, and which they wished to share with one another, especially with women less fortunate than themselves. They heard of an organization through which they could carry out their ideals. These first five women began to interest and gather, one by one, the rest of us 16 women, to form a pre-organization Committee. This Committee appealed to the Chinese National Y.W.C.A. in Shanghai for a Secretary to help to organize, but were told they should first secure their own Chinese Secretary before further help could be given. By hard work, their first Secretary was found and then Miss Nell Elliott was sent in response to their request. After 2 years' preparation the Hong Kong Y.W.C.A. was organized in the year 1920.

THE OBJECT

You may ask what the object of the Y.W.C.A. is. It concerns itself with a woman's complete personality, her life as a whole in other words, the four fold purpose of spiritual, mental, physical and social development for women and girls, regardless of class and creed. We started with 81 charter members in two rented rooms in Caine Road. The four fold programme appealed strongly to this young growing Association. Day by day activities grew and membership was strengthened, until two floors were necessary. After 6 or 7 years we had outgrown our two floors and began to search for a suitable site to build. Since land was so expensive and no suitable site could be found, we thought the best thing we could do was to buy a house to meet the immediate needs. Through the generosity of the public and the faithful effort of our finance workers, we raised $70,000 to buy the present premises.

We have, to-day, about 900 members, half being girls under 18 years of age. Our primary emphasis has never been on the number of our members but on their interest and understanding of the purpose and work of the Association. Membership is opened to women of all nationalities. Any member of one Association is considered a member of another Association of this world wide movement. The Hong Kong Y.W.C.A. is affiliated with the National Y.W.C.A. of China and the World Y.W.C.A. at Geneva.

INITIATIVE POWERS

The Y.W.C.A. is an organization where women can experiment, and make use of their initiative powers. During all these years, through working together and sharing, our members have grown in their sense of service, responsibility and understanding, as well as in their creative self-expression. We were the first organization to start a baby welfare centre 15 years ago. Soon we had to open a second one at the Y.M.C.A. and a third one over Kowloon to be nearer to the poor districts. This piece of work was much encouraged by the Committee Members of the Ministering Children's League and the Women's Guild, who showed their great interest by sending us a generous gift of $200 annually. Now that the Government and many hospitals, in their better financial position, have taken up this work and are doing it more efficiently, we have changed our method. We visit their homes instead of asking them to come to us. We talk to them individually about the care of children and should we find they need other help, which such institutions as the Violet Peel Health Centre or the Society for the Protection of Children can give, we recommend them to these institutions.

FREE NIGHT SCHOOLS

We were pioneers in opening free night schools for industrial girls over 14 years of age. We have 3 night schools and a day school where girls are taught simple and practical domestic science as well as to read and write and above all they are trained to be better citizens. We have found this is one of the most worth while piece of social work to promote in the Colony, for through contact with these girls we can get into their homes and get to know their families and see in what way we can help them.

AMBULANCE WORK

Our St. John Ambulance Nursing Division has always tried their best to serve the community.

Opportunities were given to us through Lady Southorn, to help some of those women who attempted suicide. Such cases were sent to us after they had seen the Hon. the Secretary for Chinese Affairs and we tried to help them in any way we could.

Our educational programme consists of:

Classes in home-nursing. First Aid, Chinese and European cooking. Mandarin, Needlework &c. and Lectures and discussions on child psychology, House Management, Citizenship, International fellowship and other social problems.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The social and recreational activities give members opportunities to widen their circle of friends and outlook in life. Our hotel provides a home for 28 permanent or transient guests. Closely connected with the hotel is our hostess and friends of Y.W.C.A. from all over the world visit us and this adds much to the international aspect of the Association.

HOLIDAY CAMP

For a number of years we have been loaning or renting premises as a holiday camp, so that teachers, students and other social workers who cannot afford to go away at great distance for a holiday, can go there for change and a rest. We were fortunate, last year to have leased from the Government a rather suitable house on the beach at Chuen Wan for this purpose.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

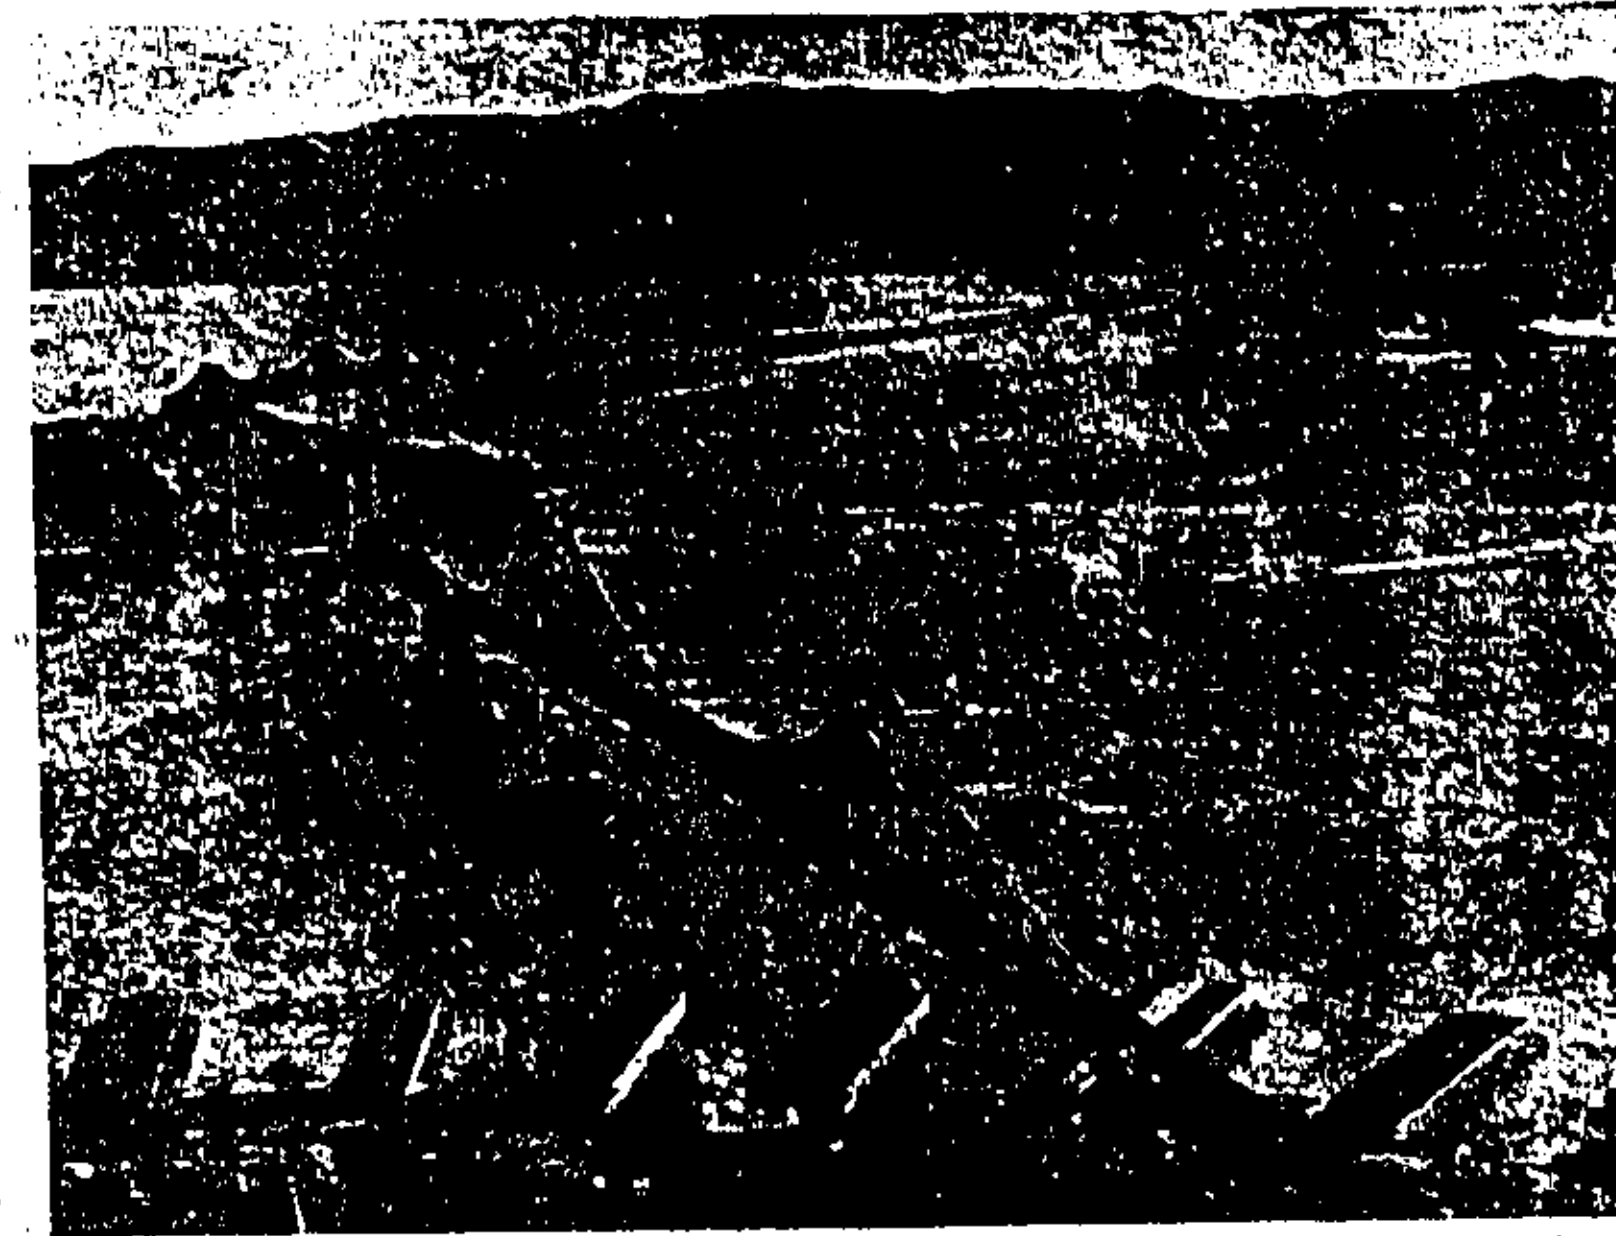

Though we want the Christian spirit to permeate every activity, there is also definite need for religious education, through devotional meetings, study groups and personal work. We try to help women to have a right attitude towards life and the purpose of

VOLUNTEER WORKERS

All these activities are planned and directed by over 60 volunteer workers serving on the Board and 7 Committees, and a staff of 6 Secretaries.

We are thinking of the possibilities of forming an International Women's Social Service Group, so that all those who are already doing social work and others who are interested in it, can work together more effectively. No plans have yet been made, but we wish to know what some of you experienced people think of this idea. May we count on your interest and support when we do come to make plans for it?

In conclusion I wish to thank you all very sincerely. (Applause).

LADY CALDECOTT'S SPEECH

Lady Caldecott said: "President members and guests: I am not going to burden you with a long speech because I much prefer listening to speaking and, like most sensible women, I leave the talking to the men. But I do want to tell you how very grateful I am for your welcome this afternoon; how honoured I feel to be your patroness and how deeply interested I am in your work."

I can assure you that I will do all in my power to befriend and support the Y.W.C.A. during my time in Hong Kong. That is all that I have to say; it is very short but very, very true. Thank you all so much."

ENTERTAINMENT

A splendid programme of entertainment was provided as follows: Chinese Songs: Miss Lum Wai Oi (a) A Chinese Lullaby. (b) Away! Life's Cares. (c) A Fisherman's Song. (accompanied by Miss Yung Mo Chun).

Dance of Three Buddhas—Members of Wah Kwong Club. Chinese Pantomime—Mencius and his Mother.

Mrs. Polly C. W. Lum. Chinese Instrumental Music. Miss Cheung Tsui Wah. Chinese Sword Dance.

Miss Kwong Tak Chie. Miss Kwong Wai Ching. Tableau—International Family. Members of Wah Kwong Club.

SHANGHAI AUTHORITIES WATCHFUL

COTTON STRIKE COMPROMISE

Shanghai, Nov. 13. The Chinese authorities as well as the Settlement police are closely watching the activities of certain elements who are seeking to inject political issues into the cotton strike. Several attempts to organize demonstrations were thwarted in their early stages before they could assume a definite anti-Japanese aspect.

It is understood that the Japanese Mill Owners' Association are ready to concede a five per cent wage increase but this so far falls short of the strikers' demand. A number of operatives resumed work under these conditions.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

NEW CHINESE PROVINCE

Chengtu, Nov. 13. Charged with the task of creating a new Chinese province out of wilderness, General Liu Wen-hui left Szechuan for Kiangling, the provisional capital of Sikong. He was accompanied by a retinue of civil officials and regiments of infantry and his first task will be to rid the territory of banditry and to settle the religious dispute.

Sikong was only recently designated a fully fledged province of China.—Reuter.

FIREMAN FALLS FROM DRILL TOWER

A nasty accident befell a fireman shortly after noon in the compound of No. 2 Police Station, Wanchai, yesterday. The fireman, Cheong Yee, attached to the Mongkok Fire Sub-Station, was carrying out competition drill in connection with the forthcoming annual fire display when he fell from the drill tower. Cheong was between the first and second floors of the tower when the accident occurred. He was removed to the Government Civil Hospital and his condition is stated to be serious.

STUDENT SUSPECTED

In a report to the police, Tseng Wo Yik, 20 years, schoolmaster at the Put Tak School, Caine Road, first floor, stated that between 8 and 8.20 a.m. on Thursday, some person stole from a room in the school a 14-carat gold wrist watch with metal band attached, valued at $5. The victim suspects a student, Chiu Yiu Sang, aged 18 years, who was been missing from the school since 8.30 a.m. on Thursday.

WAVE OF ARRESTS IN MOSCOW

Believed Prelude To Monster Trail

Many Germans Taken In Custody

BITTER PRESS COMMENT

Berlin, November 13. The Germans arrested in Moscow include Thimig, head of "Labor Leo," the Moscow branch of a Dresden firm in Leowke, believed to be the only foreign concession left in Moscow. The other director of the Branch, a Lithuanian named Ratz, was also arrested leaving the Branch without a management.

The new wave of arrests is believed to be the prelude to a monster trial wherein Wyshinski will again conduct the prosecution.

PRESS COMMENT. The comment in to-day's Press is very bitter maintaining that the arrests are "concessions to propaganda which wants to strengthen Soviet enmity against Capitalist states." Tageblatt says the fact that the arrests are almost exclusively directed against German citizens must draw Germany's special attention against these dangerous practices in Russia.

NO BRITONS

Moscow, Nov. 13. It is learned from official sources that no Britons are among the arrested.

Reports emanating from Warsaw, stated that many foreign specialists and experts living in the Soviet Union have been arrested for having pursued activities of subversive nature. Allegations were made of "espionage and sabotage in favour of a certain central European power."

GERMANY RUSSIA TENSION

Berlin, Nov. 12. Tension between Germany and Russia has been increased following the announcement through a German news agency that the German Ambassador in Moscow had made the "most emphatic representations at the Commissariat of Foreign Affairs regarding the arrests of German citizens."

The agency adds that the persons arrested were unsuspicious people, carrying on their professions as musicians, book-keepers or mechanics, and such.

The Moscow correspondent of this agency states that simultaneously with the arrest of the German citizens, Soviet citizens having relations with the German Embassy were also taken into custody. Even those Russians belonging to the German School or the German Evangelical Church were gathered in by the police.

ARREST OF FOREIGNERS

Berlin, Nov. 12. The foreigners, arrested by the Russian police in their anti-espionage raids, according to the Nazi "Angriff," comprise two Englishmen, five Germans, nine Poles and two Swedes.

The paper adds the most unfortunate impression must be made by the arrest of the members of foreign parties who went to Moscow for the October revolution celebrations. It is alleged they came merely to establish a connection between the Russian and the foreign Trotskyist organisations.

BRITISH POLICY TOWARDS RUSSIA

London, Nov. 12. An interesting declaration concerning the British policy towards Russia was made in the House of Commons on Thursday by the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Anthony Eden as answer to an interpellation by the Liberal members. The questioner asked, whether the Government still held to its policy defined in the communiqué published on Mar. 31, 1935 on the occasion of Mr. Eden's visit to Moscow, namely that a friendly co-operation between England and the Soviet Union was of the greatest importance for collective peace and security. Mr. Eden answered the question in the affirmative; and added "that represents our policy."

FOREIGNERS ARRESTED IN MOSCOW

Warsaw, Nov. 12. Among the foreign Communists arrested in Moscow, whose arrest is now confirmed, is the Polish Communist Somowski, who held a leading post in the OGPU, but was shot when it was found out that he belonged to one of the organisations of the "Trotsky Opposition." Many foreign Communists, who had come to Moscow for the October celebrations, were arrested after the Somowski trial. Five of the arrested men were Germans, two Britons, two Austrians and two Swedes. The charge against them is that they tried to re-establish contact with the headquarters of the Trotsky group abroad.

MOSCOW ARRESTS

Berlin, Nov. 13. Over a hundred arrests have now been made in Moscow in connection with the alleged plot according to reports reaching Warsaw.

REPORT DENIED

Moscow, Nov. 13. The Soviet authorities deny the Berlin report that Police Chief Sosnowski who was shot, for plotting the life of Stalin. They pointed out that Sosnowski was a common Russian name but there is no prominent OGPU official of that name.

PLOT AGAINST STALIN

Berlin, Nov. 12. According to the Moscow correspondent of the Nazi Angriff, the Soviet Secret Police Chief, Sosnowski, has been shot on a charge of plotting against the life of Stalin. Sosnowski is described as the head of the Polish department of the secret police.

FUNDS FROM ABROAD

Fascists And Reds In Britain

London, Nov. 12. In answer to a question in the House of Commons, the Home Secretary, Sir John Simon said he could not make a detailed statement, but information had reached him which went to show that both in the case of the Fascist and Communist organisations in Britain, their funds had been supplemented from abroad.

STEAMER DRAGS ANCHORS

Blown Onto Mud Of Gravesend Pier

London, Nov. 13. The steamship Belparell of Oslo (7,200 tons) dragged her anchors in the Thames off Gravesend during the night and was blown onto the mud of Gravesend Pier. The ship has a bid list and all the crew has been taken off only the Captain and two officers remaining aboard. She was refloated at high tide by tug.

AUSTRALIA'S THREE CONDITIONS

Anglo-Australian Airmail Contract

INAUGURATION SERVICE POSTPONED

Canberra, Nov. 13. The three conditions under which Australia will enter the fifteen-year Anglo-Australian airmail contract was given by the Minister of Defence.

First, Australia will have the right to withdraw the partnership if she is not satisfied with the conduct of the service.

Second, severe penalties to prevent the late arrival of the English mails to Singapore.

Third, a complete and effective control of the Singapore-Sydney air journey.

The minister explained that owing to the impossibility of the earlier completion of the flying boats for the connection service, it has been decided to postpone the inauguration service until January 1938.

COMPULSORY MILITARY SERVICE

Paris, Nov. 13. The Communist and Socialist delegates to the Chamber's Military Commission will again move on the interpellation about the shortening of the time of compulsory military service, which at the present time is two years.

The war-minister, Flandin, has repeatedly stated that such a shortening is impossible. As soon as he heard of the new Communist-Socialist offensive, he convened the Military Commission for Friday, when he will demand a vote of confidence by all Popular Front Party Delegates, or otherwise he will resign.

POLISH NEWSPAPER CONFISCATED

Danzig, Nov. 13. The Polish newspaper "Dziennik Bydgoski" as from November 12, was confiscated by the authorities here, for reporting on the "Lupus Horst incident" near Neuteich.

VIOLENT ATTACK ON SOVIET RUSSIA

GRANDI'S REVELATIONS

Rome, November 13. An extraordinary violent attack on Soviet Russia was launched on Thursday by the Italian Ambassador, Signor Grandi in London. His revelations of Bolshevik activities have had a strong reaction in Italy, and it is believed that during the last few weeks the opinion of the Italian people had formed itself to the determination of itself taking to the initiative, and leaving no chance for fighting the Bolshevik peril in Europe.

Special impression was caused to the Italian people by Grandi's revelations of the activities of the Bolshevik Government in Spain, leaving Madrid to destruction, while all along having acted in direct opposition to the true will of the people, Malenkow's actions being those of "a wolf in sheep's clothing," when he accused everybody else of violating the non-intervention pact.

GREAT AIRPORT PLANNED

Paris, Nov. 13. One joint great airport for the cities Lille, Tourcoing and Roubaix will be built shortly, according to a message here, which states that the necessary negotiations have been carried on by the Minister of Interior, Salengro and the Air-minister Pierre Cot. The airport's construction will be begun immediately.

STUDENTS IN CONFLICT

Danzig, Nov. 13. Because of violent conflicts between Jewish and Polish students at the University of Vilna's rector suspended all lectures till further notice.

"TIPPERARY" King Leads Singing On Platform

NAVAL RATINGS CONCERT

London, Nov. 13. The weather had improved at Portland to-day when the King began the second of his two days visit to the Home Fleet. Keen wind was blowing and a fair sea was running but yesterday's gale had subsided.

The King was up early and spent some time on the deck of the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert before beginning to-day's programme which included visits to submarines and destroyers. After having seen men of the Fleet paraded before him with strict discipline throughout the day the King last night saw them off duty.

Accompanied by Sir Samuel Hoare, Admiral Backhouse and a few other officers he spent several hours at a concert in the aircraft carrier Courageous attended by 2,000 naval ratings. He joined in the choruses and asked especially for "Tipperary" standing on the platform and leading the singing of this and other songs to the accompaniment of ship's organ, cello and banjo band. The men crowded round him shouted for three cheers for the King and, standing on their seats, sang spontaneously "For he's a jolly good fellow."

The King left a cheerful and informal gathering about midnight and returned through heavy seas and pelting rain to the Royal yacht.

FIRST SIGNAL AS ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET

London, Nov. 13. All warships are dressed in Portland Harbour to-day in obedience to a signal from the Royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, the first signal to be made to the fleet by the King as Admiral of the Fleet. The flags are run up end to end on each ship, making a gay spectacle against the wintry sea. The gale abated when the King embarked on his inspection tour of the submarine service.

The King boarded the big new submarine and spent some time in it. He also visited the fishery protection cruisers and other vessels.

MONETARY AGREEMENT

HOLLAND MAY JOIN

The Hague, Nov. 13. The likelihood of Holland joining the Anglo-Franco-American monetary agreement is envisaged by circles in close touch with the government.

No decision is yet taken but it is understood that the cabinet are considering the question.

DANUBE QUESTION

Milan, Nov. 13.

Speaking of the new understanding which was reached in Vienna by the deliberations of the three signatory states to the Rome Protocols, the "Gazeta del Popolo" states that no other plan than these Protocols would have been able to bring relief to the Danube questions.

All previous attempts had failed, above all those that had originated in Paris, because they were either anti-Italian or anti-German. On the other hand it had been shown that a rapprochement with the Little Entente was impossible, but the way had been shown for an adherence of single members, possibly Yugoslavia.

CHINESE AWAIT INVASION

Shanghai, Nov. 13. Intensive military preparations continue in Inner Mongolia, according to Chinese reports, which declare that Li Shou-sin's Manchurian forces are advancing northward from Shanghai and Wang Ying's Mongols are moving steadily towards Peking, skirting the Chinese defences east and north-east of Suiyuan.

About 60 truckloads of supplies arrived from Jehol at Shanghai yesterday, and 30 were forwarded to Peking.

Aeroplane continue to scout over the Chinese lines, where preparations to resist the invasion are in full swing.

MADRID HOLDING OUT SUCCESSFULLY

"Fascist Weapons To Kill Fascists"

GOVERNMENT OFFENSIVE ORDERED

Madrid, November 13. The morale of the militia has vastly improved now that they have successfully opposed the Legionnaires and the Moors for nearly a week at the gates of Madrid and found they are not invincible.

The arrival of new war material recently from abroad also contributed to raising the spirits of many of the shock police equipped with Italian rifles, and is a standing joke about "using Fascist weapons to kill Fascists."

The tactical position of Madrid is rather strong, the rebels' main attack coming from Toledo over the Andalusia road, which appears to be one of the most difficult to force. Road-lined houses dykes, aerodromes and encampments are all used as small fortresses, involving street fighting, hence the frequency of insurgent air raids on this sector of the town. On the other hand, the advance could be made fairly easily through the wooded Casa de Camp which affords excellent cover but this involves the crossing of a large open space dominated by Government machine guns.

IRRESISTIBLE ADVANCE

Paris, Nov. 13. A big Government offensive has been ordered by the Madrid Defence Junta. A communiqué states, "Our troops are advancing slowly but irresistibly and they are carrying out the plans of the High Command. Our position is favourable."

General Malja addressed the order to "fifty thousand Republican combatants at present in the lines," ordering them to attack, "so as to end the week with a decisive victory."

In the meantime, the Madrid wireless has also launched an offensive, calling on the insurgents to disobey their leaders. It is stated the Government troops advanced two and a half miles yesterday along the Estremadura Road sector and Asturian miners from the Madrid front are doing terrible damage with dynamite and hand-grenades which were thrown under advancing tanks.

NON-INTERVENTION COMMITTEE

Heated Exchanges Between Italy And Soviet

London, Nov. 13. The Non-Intervention Committee sat for five and a half hours to-day, rising at 9.30 p.m. and a communiqué issued just after midnight states it approved a scheme for the establishment of a system of supervision in Spain, subject to certain drafting amendments and confirmation by the Governments concerned.

The communiqué reveals a heated exchange between the Italian and Soviet representatives, the former alleging Soviet interference in Spain.

Signor Grandi, the Italian spokesman, declared the Soviet creed was a creed of war. Italy, he said, accepted the challenge, convinced as she was that not only the future of Spain but the future of all civilised Europe was at stake.

The Soviet delegate, M. Maisky, retorted that the Italian delegate was piping a tune composed in Berlin. The division to-day, he asserted, was not between Communism and Fascism but between war and peace, and between the countries which gloried in war and aggression and the countries which detested war and desired peace.

Italy, M. Maisky pronounced, stood unmasked before the world as an aggressor and arch-violator of treaties.

The Committee considered four complaints alleged breaches of agreement by the Soviet, submitted by the Italian Government, and found the evidence insufficient to enable the Committee to reach a definite conclusion that a breach had been committed.

COMPLETE ACCORD

Italy, Hungary And Austria

Vienna, Nov. 12.

On Thursday evening it was officially announced that Chancellor Schuschnigg, Foreign Minister, Dr. Schmitt, Foreign Minister, Count Ciano and Foreign Minister Kanva had ended their deliberations, and an official communique was subsequently issued.

The official communique stated that the meeting between the Foreign Ministers of Austria, Italy and Hungary had taken place in Vienna in accordance with the Rome Protocols, and had again confirmed the complete accord of the three countries, both in general problems, and in these problems affecting the three countries especially.

The economic relations between the three countries had been carefully examined, and would be continued in the same spirit of cordial co-operation as before. The Austrian Chancellor and the Hungarian Foreign Minister expressed the thanks of their respective Governments for the help already rendered their national support by Italy. After expressing satisfaction at the harmonious functioning of the Rome Protocols, and the good relations between Austria and Germany since the agreement between those two countries of June 11, the communique went on to say that the Austrian and Hungarian Governments voiced their pleasure at the intention of Germany and Italy to treat the Danubian question in a spirit of friendliness.

Complete agreement prevailed among the Governments that the rights of Austria and Hungary to rearm were justified. The Austrian Chancellor and the Hungarian Foreign Minister conveyed the official decision of their respective Governments to recognise the Italian Abyssinian Empire.

On behalf of the Italian Government, Count Ciano expressed his heartiest gratification at this fact, and stated that the Italian Government would take the wishes of Austria and Hungary into account, regarding the economic exploitation of Abyssinia.

LEIPZIG FAIR

House of Nations For Visitors

Leipzig, Nov. 12.

Visitors to the Leipzig Fair in spring next year will find a new convenience, to be called the "House of Nations," whereby the execution of business will be greatly facilitated. Until now, the merchants of all the different countries have had their own headquarters and meeting place in some hotel or office, but the various headquarters were scattered all over Leipzig, and it was difficult for merchants of one country to meet those of another. At the House of Nations, all countries heretofore having separate meeting places, will be in the same building, so that all businessmen of the world will meet under one roof, without any loss of time and being able to discuss important matters.

On the top story of the House of Nations, the press will find all accommodations necessary, for technical literary work, with their own writing rooms, post office, airmail office, and telephone connection to all parts of the world.

MIND AND BODY

Interesting Lecture

By Prof. Nixon

PSYCHOLOGY IS SCIENCE IN MAKING

Professor W. C. W. Nixon, Professor of Obstetrics and Gynaecology at the University of Hong Kong, delivered a most interesting and absorbing lecture on "Mind and Body" before a large gathering in the University Union Assembly Hall yesterday afternoon. It was his first public lecture since his arrival in the Colony.

Professor W. I. Gerrard, Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, and President of the H.K. University Medical Society, under whose auspices the lecture was given, presided and introduced the speaker.

Professor Nixon, in the course of his talk, gave many illustrations in his research in gynaecology. He showed how mind ruled body in almost every instance of ailment, and before he talked in personal vein he warned listeners that they would be treated to a rather gruesome side of this matter.

The last admonishment was that they should leave the assembly right then, or "forever hold their peace." He did not wish to be referred to later on, as somebody with a "nasty mind."

THE LECTURE

Professor Nixon said:— "It would seem that the science of psychology is something new and strange, something to be conjured with. There is nothing new under the sun. At the outset it is as well for us to realise what we mean by this term. It is a science which investigates behaviour in general from the aspect of its mental implications, whether conscious or unconscious, with a view to control. I would assert that there is no more opportune time than to-day for the application of psychology in its true sense to our national and individual ills whether it be by investigation or control of the same.

HISTORICAL SURVEY

Psychology is still a science in the making. It has been assumed that psychology originated in the thoughts of primitive men about the phenomena of sleep, dreams, insanity and death. From the historical aspect there are four main periods:—

1. The epoch of Greek speculation in which the Mind-Body dualism arose in a general framework of philosophical theory;
2. the period of mediaeval thought during which great emphasis was laid upon the mental powers as indicating the spiritual nature of man;
3. the modern era beginning with the distinction drawn by Descartes between the body and mind;
4. contemporary psychology, dating back to the introduction into science of the hypothesis of evolution.

The early Greek philosophers were extroverts, i.e. their interests were centred upon cosmic changes rather than upon themselves; all matter was alive and all living things had souls. Socrates (b. circa 471 B.C.) substituted the subjective for the objective method. Plato (b. 427 B.C.) for the first time in history distinguished between sense-perception and thought, and taught that knowledge was the result of the latter on the former. He says "We do not see with the eyes, but through them. We do not hear with the ears but through them. Nor could any one sense itself distinguish between its own activity and that of another sense. There must be something connected with both—call it soul or anything else you like—with which we truly perceive all that is conveyed to us through the sensory faculties. It is the soul, or psyche, that makes us aware that we perceive and that distinguishes the data of one sense-organ from those of another." Aristotle (b. 384 B.C.) took the problem further. His conception was that moderate dualism in which soul and body were not separate entities but together constituted the individual.

PSYCHOLOGIST'S PHILOSOPHY

In early Christianity, we find St. Augustine (b. A.D. 354) a psychologist of outstanding eminence. The main points in his philosophy were God, the human soul and the value of introspection. The two great forerunners of modern psychology are Descartes (b. 1596) and Locke (b. 1632). The former's philosophy may be summarised

TO-MORROW'S HOCKEY

Nomads Meet "A" Coy. R.U.R.

(BY J. H. F.)

An interesting hockey match should be witnessed at the Murray Parade ground to-morrow morning when the Nomads meet the "A" Coy. R.U.R. in their Mamak Tournament fixture. The game commences at 11.00 a.m.

As the strength of the military side is not known, to forecast the eventual result is out of the question but it will be safe to say that they will not have matters all their own way. The Nomads, one of the youngest side in the Mamak Tournament have drawn both their fixtures to date and it will be interesting to see how they fare to-morrow.

The Nomads have made two changes in their side. E. Alves, a new acquisition, will be played between the "sticks" in place of A. Soares who sprained his ankle in a badminton game recently, while H. Soares will deputise for F. G. Barros, who is unavoidably prevented from playing.

The following will line up for the Nomads:—E. Alves; H. Soares, R. J. Reed; J. Marques, A. P. Hanson, A. Xavier; R. M. da Silva, R. C. Reed, S. A. Reed (Capt.), S. Souza and G. Soares.

as:—"I think, therefore I am." He taught that animals were automata without feelings or power of self-movement, which obey the physical and mechanical laws that regulate inanimate Nature. But in man's case a thinking mind is infused into the automaton by God. The human mind must somewhere come into contact with the body, and he located this contact in the pineal gland (the legendary third eye) at the base of the brain. In this way he anticipated 300 years ago what has only recently been proved, and that is that the pituitary gland, anatomically not far distant from the pineal, is the governor of our destinies. This is the gland which moderates and influences our sex make-up and instincts, besides having many other functions.

Kant (b. 1724) was convinced that an exact science of psychology was impossible but he indicated how such a science might be built up. No longer must it be concerned with souls, but must study experience and to be successful must employ mathematical method. (To be Continued.) (The remaining portion of the lecture will be published on Monday.)

BATSMEN COLLAPSE AFTER TEA

Sydney, Nov. 13.

In fine and sunny weather a crowd of 10,000 witnessed the cricket match between New South Wales and the M.C.C. tourists. The field bore many worn patches after the recent drought.

New South Wales won the toss and elected to bat and at lunch had lost three wickets for 76 runs. At tea the score was 267 without further loss. This was brought about through a splendid partnership between S. J. McCabe, the Test player, who scored 83 and R. Robinson (91). They put on 113 runs in 135 minutes.

McCabe delighted with classic square-cuts and hit ten boundaries. Robinson scored with strokes on the off and late cuts. He hit with great power and his innings included 11 fours.

AMES RETURNS

Leslie Ames was keeping wicket and took the ball with confidence showing no signs of his recent back trouble.

After tea, the home team collapsed their last seven wickets, falling for the addition of 67 runs against the magnificent bowling of Walter Hammond who returned with the following figures:—

The remainder of the bowling analysis was as follows:—G. C. Allen 2 for 45; Copson 1 for 71; Sims 2 for 73 and Worthington for 31.

New South Wales scored 273. The M.C.C. had scored one run without loss when stumps were drawn. The match is being played over four days.—Reuter.

LIGHT-WEIGHT
CHAMPIONSHIPMizler Beaten On Points

A magnificent welcome to the re-established National Sporting Club was given recently by an attendance of 10,000 people at the Empress Stadium, Earl's Court, for the first boxing tournament of the new club, states "Harold Lewis" in a Home paper.

Hundreds who had planned to buy their seats at the turnstiles were disappointed, for the great hall was full. It was a most remarkable tribute to the traditions of the old Club for good boxing. For there was only one heavy-weight fight on the programme, and that of comparative unimportance, while some of the boxers had never been seen before by this London crowd.

In the chief fight, Jimmy Walsh, of Chester, the British light-weight champion, successfully defended his title against a former champion, Harry Mizler, of St. George's, and although Walsh won only on points, the referee, Mr. C. H. Douglas, must have made up his mind long before the end that, short of a knock-out, Walsh could hardly lose.

Mr. Douglas, by the way, formed a happy link with the old Club, where he, his brother ("J. W. H. T.") and his father used to sit in turn on a rostrum-like seat well away from the ring. Last night Mr. Douglas returned to the old Club custom of controlling the fight from outside the ring.

A CLEAN FIGHT

Perhaps fortunately, the fight was of so clean a nature that a referee was hardly necessary at all. There was little or no clinching, and no suspicion of a foul punch. It was just good, keen, sometimes exciting boxing.

Until the closing rounds Walsh was always winning clearly. With a battle-cry of a large number of Chester supporters in his ears, he attacked from start with a speed and aggression which took Mizler completely out of his stride.

Mizler's left hand, which used to be so steady and true a weapon, fizzled out into worse than nothing, for he prodded the air ineffectively and received severe punches whenever he attacked.

Walsh, beautifully built, with grand shoulders, strong stomach muscles and exceptionally light feet, attempted nothing graceful in boxing. He was a punch-slinger. If the left hook failed to land, the following right struck home somewhere. He was always hitting and often succeeding.

MIZLER PUNISHED

As early as the second round Mizler was in trouble. Two rounding left swings to the stomach were followed by a third, slightly lower, but fair. Mizler's face screwed up in pain, and I believe he would have fallen for a count but for the fact that he was in a clinch and was held up.

He recovered quickly, and for many rounds following the fight consisted for the most part of Walsh leaping to attack, striving for a finishing punch, and Mizler defending with that flapping left hand and a strong guard behind it. Gradually Mizler's defence became cooler, and gradually Walsh showed signs of tiring.

After the fight had begun to drag a little it was suddenly realised that Mizler held a chance of winning if he could but land that excellent short right-cross which had won him many of his fights.

WALSH SURPRISED

With his left eye badly swollen and almost useless, his mouth bleeding badly, Mizler in the 11th round landed a dramatic right to the jaw. It was in the first few seconds of the round.

Walsh stopped, and his hands dropped; the crowd screamed for Mizler to seize his chance. But the Londoner was himself tired, to a state of mechanical boxing. There was no fire left in him. He tried, half-heartedly, to land the same punch again, but never succeeded.

The last round was so thrilling that people were on their feet, shouting. Mizler managed somehow to summon enough energy for a final onslaught, and seemed twice to have accomplished the vital punch. His timing, however, was now faulty, and Walsh went to his corner a very easy winner. I do not think the champion lost a single round until the eleventh, and not another until the last. The fight was full of action and clever defence. Walsh has made great improvement, and London will want to see him again.

An
writes:—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."
(Signed) Dr. H. G. —, M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach trouble is caused by acidity, and the reason why 'Bisurated' Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralises excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking 'Bisurated' Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

TRAMP SHIPPING SUBSIDY

London, Nov. 11.

The President of the Board of Trade announced in the House of Commons that the Government propose to submit proposals providing for the payment of a tramp shipping subsidy not exceeding £2,000,000 in respect of the year 1937, subject to the same general conditions as applied to the present year.

These conditions provide for a decrease or disappearance of the subsidy if the average level of freight rates for the year approaches or passes that of 1929.

R. A. M. C. ASSOCIATION

Carnival Ball

SUCCESSFUL FUNCTION

The monthly dance for November of the R.A.M.C. Association took the form of a grand carnival ball when it was held successfully at the Hotel Cecil last night, with Sergt. Major A. A. Barton acting as M. C. of the dance.

The decoration at the hotel entrance and precincts with coloured lights and greenery was very much impressive, particularly the large, beautiful design of a red cross, which brightly illuminated the passage up to the lift—a sign reminding of the proud and honourable profession of the members. In the ballroom the decoration was by no means less beautiful. Balloons, streamers, confetti, novelty hats and such like accounted for the good fun of the participants.

In spite of the occasion falling on a Friday night, almost all the members and their guests numbering over 150 couples attended the function. The spirit of friendliness filled up the spacious hall, while all the entertainments amused them to their hearts' content. Thus in a sense of cheerfulness and happiness, the association saw another function run with smoothness, thanks to the valuable expenditure of energy, and hard work of the committee.

The dance orchestra of the R. U. Rifles was in attendance by kind permission of Major H. McI. Morrison M. C. and Officers. Among those present on the dance were—Col. H. H. Blake O.B.E., Lt. Colonel and Mrs. S. D. Reid, Capt. and Mrs. Denning, Major and Mrs. Eccles, Lt. Colonel W. D. Arthur.

The epidemic apparently commenced on Tuesday. Since then it has grown, and parents should take every precaution with their children.

"Although adults are being affected, young children are seemingly the principal victims."

In the course of the inspection, His Excellency inspected thoroughly the wards in the new building and the old building, including the charity and private maternity wards, evincing great interest, and asking many pertinent questions. Sir Andrew and Lady Caldecott occasionally stopped and enquired about the welfare and comfort of the patients. Lady Caldecott took great interest in the care of the maternity patients and the sick children.

Both His Excellency and Lady Caldecott expressed their delight with the beautiful view of the hospital and commended favourably on the architecture as well as the internal arrangements in the hospital. In extending his congratulations to the Directors, he said, he considered it a pleasure both for him and Lady Caldecott to have visited the hospital and that Hong Kong was fortunate in having such a good institution.

After the inspection, a group photograph was taken, and refreshments were served at the roof garden, from which the beautiful panorama of the Race-course and its surroundings was seen and admired by all present.

Portugal As Colonial Power

men for every 10,000 natives to compare with the average of 25 in foreign colonies. This is as much as to say that Portugal has succeeded, better than any other colonial power, in investing its population in the development of its tropical possessions.

In the revenue and expenditure budgets, it is revealed that Macao in 1930-31 had a surplus over expenditure of $65,157.67; in 1931-32, revenue exceeded expenditure by $224,345.45; in 1932-33, expenditure and income were balanced at $23,590,648.40; and in 1933-34, the same applied, the figure being $38,108,197.42.

Yesterday the death took place at the Kowloon Hospital of Norman Wilson Lean, aged three years, while the day before his little brother, Colin Wilson Lean, aged 18 months, passed away at the same institution. Both succumbed to dysentery and it is a particularly sad case in which Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Lean, of the Torpedo Department, Royal Naval Yard, Kowloon, have lost two children.

At the War Memorial Nursing Home yesterday, little Johnny Marden, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marden, of 134 Argyle Street, passed away, following an attack of dysentery.

Much sympathy will be felt for Captain and Mrs. J. Beck, of 211 Prince Edward Road, Kowloon, in the death of their infant son, John Herbert, which occurred at the War Memorial Nursing Home yesterday morning.

The lad succumbed to complications following an attack of dysentery.

HOSPITALS KEPT BUSY
Enquiries at the War Memorial Nursing Home, revealed that the outbreak of dysentery has become abnormal. There are 18 cases in this hospital.

It was stated that since Tuesday 25 cases had been admitted to Kowloon Hospital.

There are also several cases at the Victoria Hospital.

SERIOUS SITUATION
"The position is somewhat alarming," said Dr. G. W. Pope, Government Medical Officer of Health, when interviewed.

"Dysentery is not a notifiable disease, and we are having some difficulty in tracing the source of the infection."

The epidemic apparently commenced on Tuesday. Since then it has grown, and parents should take every precaution with their children.

"Although adults are being affected, young children are seemingly the principal victims."

FUNERALS OF VICTIMS

The funerals of two child victims of dysentery took place yesterday afternoon at the Protestant Cemetery, Happy Valley.

At 4 p.m. the Rev. J. D. MacLean officiated at the funeral of John Herbert Beck, two year old son of Captain and Mrs. J. Beck. Among those present at the graveside were the bereaved parents, Captain F. W. H. Graybrook, Capt. C. Stringer, Capt. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Bird, Mr. Roberts, Mr. F. Bird, Miss Armour, Mr. R. D. Gall, Mrs. and Miss Martin and Captain Newton.

Wreaths sent included those from "Mummy and Daddy," Mrs. P. S. M. Wilkinson, Mrs. J. W. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Johnston, Captain and Mrs. Cook, Uncle Donald, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Davies, Mr. C. Pendergast, Auntie Paddy, Auntie Lily and Uncle Ned, Auntie Edna, Captain and Mrs. J. T. Thirlwell and family, Miss E. B. Boulton, Auntie and Uncle Bird and Mr. Frank Bird, Auntie Beck and Uncle Frank.

LITTLE JOHN MARDEN
An hour later the funeral of John Marden, aged two years and ten months, the only son of Mr. Marden, of Messrs. Swan, Culbertson and Fritz, and Mrs. Marden, took place, the Rev. H. W. Baines officiating. Among those present were the bereaved father, Dr. E. W. Kirk, Mr. Simon and Mr. G. E. R. Divett.

Wreaths laid on the graveside included those from father and mother, Auntie Edna and Uncle Geoffrey, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Culbertson, Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Sommers and Dickie, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gee, Henri and Werink (Canton), Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Simon, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fritz, Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Fox, Mr. J. P. Gardiner, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Isle, Mrs. N. Adair, Miss M. Grose, Mr. and Mrs. H. Odell, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Tyson, Maurice and David Jock and Doll, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Newman, Stan, Messrs. Swan, Culbertson and Fritz.

HONG KONG AQUARIUM SOCIETY

Stanford Professor Introduced

At the meeting of the Hong Kong Aquarium Society last night, held at the Department of Biology of the Hong Kong University, the President, Dr. G. A. C. Herklots, introduced Dr. Herre, of the Stanford University, to the assembly. Dr. Herre was for many years the Head of the Bureau of Fisheries in the Philippine Islands, and is now a professor of Ichthyology on the faculty of the Stanford University, Palo Alto, California.

BRACKISH WATER FISHING

After the Vice-President and Secretary, Mr. B. E. Sugars, had read the minutes, Dr. Herklots told the members that the more they knew about local fish the better they would enjoy their fishing. There was much brackish water fishing at present. He then introduced the speaker of the evening.

Dr. Herre said that he had probably been fishing for over sixty years, and had fished all over the world.

FISH FAUNA RICHEST HERE

He experienced great pleasure in re-visiting southern China, as he thought that the fish fauna here was the richest in the country. The fact that this country was on the boundary line of the tropics made it the more fortunate, as people living here did not have to worry about keeping their aquaria at certain temperatures as others had to in other climes.

The first fish, Dr. Herre thought, and the forerunner of all, came from China, probably from Canton, and the fishes in this region were more prized elsewhere than here.

He visited the New Territories the day before yesterday in company with Dr. Herklots and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sugars and brought back many specimens which were exhibited during the evening.

MOST PECULIAR FISH

Dr. Herre said that the most peculiar fish he had ever caught was in South America. It was a fish that was found in northern Brazil, and centred around Buenos Aires. The fish was very attenuated and about six or seven inches long. It was shielded with armour, and the mouth was underneath the body. On the head were a series of hard brushes, sometimes running out on to the cheeks. The whiskers were as hard as wire and reminded one of a poor geological age.

THE 'SHRIMP FISH'

The most remarkable fish in captivity, he thought, was the one called the 'shrimp fish,' and it was one of the most singular fishes in the world, being slender and highly compressed. If it was covered with cellophane all over with none of the fins protruding, and then if the ventral side was pinched, one could see right through it. It was as though a window was 'put on the fish.' However, the most fantastic thing about the fish was that it stood on its head, and always moved slowly with its head down. The fish in any other position, and he thoroughly believed them.

METHODS OF COLLECTING

He concluded briefly on the different methods of collecting fish. The hook and line, of course, was not used. Traps could be used, but that would be almost an impossibility in China where the citizens helped themselves to the fish whenever one's back was turned. The dip net could only be used to catch surface fish, so the best way was to use a seine. The speaker showed a seine that he had used with success.

SPECIMEN INSPECTED

A hearty vote of thanks by Dr. Herklots closed the meeting, and all the members gathered around the many specimens to inspect them more closely. Dr. Herre was bombarded with questions from all sides for a long time after the conclusion of the meeting.

been selected, it has been decided to commence construction work immediately.

All land that has to be resumed has been marked and picketed, and a notice has been issued calling upon all owners of land and fields to send their claims for confirmation before Wednesday, November 25, 1936 for registration and consideration.
